NEW BRUNSWICK TO POLL BIG VOTE TO-MORROW

Camp Men Grouped At Regina To-day Deciding Course

Committee of Seventy-seven Holds Session on Report of Ottawa Delegation and Will Lay Its Suggestions Before Mass Meeting This Evening

None Of Men Go To Federal Prairie Camp

By SAM G. ROSS,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Regina, June 26.—Initial plans to move out of Regina to-morrow enroute to Ottawa were under consideration of striking relief camp workers here to-day.

Rejection of demands of the 2,000 strikers by the federal government sent the strikers' committee of seventy-seven into session following the arrival of the delegation of eight from Ottawa, where they met the government.

The committee was considering what next step would be taken by the strikers in view of the federal government's stand and continuation of orders to 500 Royal Canadian Mounted Police to aid railway police in preventing the strikers from boarding freight trains to get to Ottawa.

Federal plans for establishment of a demobilization camp at Lumsden, thirty-five miles north of here, were underway, but none of the strikers had registered for the camp when the office opened here this morning. The camp was being made available, said C. P. Burgess, Dominion Government representative, to provide food and shelter for the strikers until arrangements for transportation to their homes is made.

FOOD BILL

The federal government food bill for the strikers here to date is approximately $12,000. Although breakfast tickets were available for the men this morning, not one had accepted them, said Mr. Burgess.

With none of the strikers registered to go to the Lumsden camp at noon, Mr. Burgess said the registration staff would be kept at the office for the rest of the day and possibly to-morrow. Unless the men indicated willingness to co-operate, the registration office would be closed, he said.

The government desired to make demobilization as voluntary as possible, said Mr. Burgess.

PAY FOR MEALS

Breakfast for the strikers was paid for to-day out of their own funds, and other meals which the strikers may eat in Regina will be at their own expense. Since starting the trek to Ottawa in Vancouver,

RELIEF CAMP PLAN OPPOSED

Gardiner Asks Ottawa to Remove Strikers From Saskatchewan

Canadian Press

Regina, June 26.—Protesting establishment of a relief camp for striking relief camp workers in Saskatchewan, Premier J. G. Gardiner of Saskatchewan to-day telegraphed Prime Minister R. B. Bennett at Ottawa and again requested the strikers from British Columbia and Alberta be removed from the province.

Premier Gardiner also received a delegation from the strikers and heard them submit three requests. They asked:

1. That the Saskatchewan government provide for their relief while they remain in the province.

2. That the Saskatchewan government secure them against police interference while they are in Regina and Saskatchewan.

3. That the Saskatchewan government provide financially for their transportation to Winnipeg.

APPLY TO CITY

Premier Gardiner, answering the first request, said the status of the strikers was created by conditions to which the Saskatchewan government was not a party. He advised the men there was only one way for them to get back into the position of normal transients, and that was to apply to the city for aid and then let the city apply to the Saskatchewan government.

POLICE ACTIVITIES

Regarding police activities, Premier Gardiner indicated the city policed Regina, and the province could not be involved in any ordinary activities of the city police force unless called on by the city. So far as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were concerned in the matter, they were taking their instructions from Ottawa, said Premier Gardiner.

The r quest for financial assistance to get the strikers out of the province was the other request. Saskatchewan could not place itself in the same position in relation to Manitoba as others had placed themselves in relation to Saskatchewan by transporting a body of men into their capital city and leaving them there as a problem to Manitoba, said Premier Gardiner.

Saskatchewan could only extend treatment to them as it did to all other transients, he said.

DEATHS IN CHINA DISASTER 140

Associated Press

Hongkong, June 26.—The Ms. San Junon, carrying 260 passengers on the Canton River capsized to-day near Hoiping, carrying 140 persons to death.

Authorities attributed the tragedy to the increasing competition between highway and river transportation, resulting in radical reductions of steamer fares and the consequent overcrowding of river boats.

AIRPORT FOR CITY SOUGHT

City Council Moves in Attempt to Secure Facilities For Commercial Planes

Installation of a commercial landing field for Victoria by federal authorities was sought by the City Council in a resolution, moved by Alderman R. A. C. Dewar and seconded by Alderman Archie Wills, passed yesterday evening.

In a lengthy preamble reasons why Victoria should be recognized with an airport were set out. The resolution followed recent announcement that customs authorities here would not clear visiting land planes.

Alderman Dewar suggested that copies of the resolution be sent to the Prime Minister of Canada and the Minister of National Defence, and D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria, and that the surrounding municipalities be circularized to endorse the move.

Victoria was suffering under a great disadvantage by not having an airport, he said, and it was absolutely not within the possibilities of the city to build one. He thought the Dominion Government should do a little for the city of Victoria.

ISLAND IGNORED

The Dominion Government took steps to provide landing fields across Canada, Ald. Wills pointed out, but for some reason or other Vancouver Island had been ignored. Victoria, he said, had been recognized as an important naval and military base and he felt it should be recognized in aviation. The city had pioneered in aviation with her contribution of pilots during the Great War, he said.

"This situation is just another instance that accentuates the fact that Vancouver Island is neglected by the Dominion and provincial governments," declared Ald. J. D. Hunter. Anyone who investigated this question would find this to be the case, and he thought it was time local members paid more attention to securing more for the island. The same condition pertaining to landing fields existed in respect of a national radio link here, he said.

The alderman enumerated instances of where the Dominion and provincial authorities had not given what he termed proper attention to Victoria and the island. On the Island Highway the government had failed to repair the washout near Duncan which occurred in January, and the present cut-off into Duncan, he said, was a disgrace. This was also true at the Jordan River bridge, where gangs had finally started work now, but it had been necessary to ferry across. He thought it was time the governments did something for the island.

TAX ON INTEREST

Edmonton, June 26 (Associated Press).—Edmonton will ask the Union of Alberta Municipalities, convening in Calgary to-morrow, to support a proposal to levy a tax of 25 per cent on the interest of all stocks and bonds, the city council decided yesterday evening.

Talks Fail To End Ethiopia Dispute

Eden on Way to Paris After Meeting Mussolini in Rome; Italian Leader in Unyielding Mood

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, June 26.—His conversations with Premier Benito Mussolini ended, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, left Rome to-day for Paris, but the menace of war between Italy and Ethiopia remains.

Press dispatches from Rome are heavy with pessimism. Sir Sydney Barton, British minister at Addis Ababa, due on leave here, has been officially requested to remain at his post.

COMMUNIQUES COLORLESS

Official communiques on the Rome conversations were uninformative and colorless in the extreme, and these communiques British official circles decline either to supplement or interpret.

Prevalent opinion, however, is that Italy no longer will be content with trade concessions or other economic readjustments. The Italian plan, it is reported, is that Ethiopia shall agree either to accept a mandate or a protestorate or Italy will undertake a campaign of conquest.

COOLY RECEIVED

This plan—if it really was submitted by Premier Mussolini—finds a cool reception here. In the first place it is questioned how one member of the League of Nations can hold a mandate over another member. Secondly it is felt that an Italian campaign in Ethiopia might endanger peace down the Danube.

"Italy's claims," editorially comments The Manchester Guardian, "depend on might in Africa and devious diplomatic bargainings in Europe, and neither of them deserves consideration in 1935."

GAIN SEEN IN EMPLOYMENT

Increase in Canadian Payrolls June 1 Was 22,704 Above Previous Month

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—Substantial expansion was shown in employment on June 1, when reports from 9,270 firms showed 915,792 workers on the payrolls, an increase of 22,704 over the previous month, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported to-day.

The crude index of June 1 stood at 97.6, against 95.2 the preceding month and 96.6 on June 1, 1934. On the basis 1926 equals 100, the index reports for the thirteen previous years were: 1933, 80.7; 1932, 89.1, 1931, 103.6; 1930, 116.5; 1929, 122.2; 1928, 113.8; 1927, 107.2; 1925, 95.6; 1924, 96.4; 1923, 98.5; 1922, 90.3, and 1921, 87.7.

MANUFACTURING GAIN

Pronounced advances were reported in manufacturing, when the additions to staffs considerably exceeded the average seasonal gain on June 1 in the last fourteen years, to-day's report states.

In the non-manufacturing industries increased employment was shown in logging, mining, communications, local and railway transportation, building, and railway construction and maintenance, service and trade. Shipping and stevedoring were slacker, and there were temporary losses in highway construction.

Improvement was indicated, says the report, in all five economic areas, except Ontario, where there was a minor contraction. Firms in Quebec and the prairie provinces employed the greatest number of extra workers.

C. Limb, Victoria, Attacked in Vancouver Strike Area; Gets Away

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 26.—Police to-day continued to receive reports of isolated cases of violence arising out of the Vancouver waterfront strike. Operations continued, however, as more than 650 men worked fourteen deepsea vessels at six docks.

Cyril Limb of Victoria, fireman on the steamship Princess Kathleen, reported he was attacked by six men yesterday evening, but managed to escape.

Harold Kerfoot, employee of a log exporting firm, and Edwin Tremblay, seaman on the steamship Shelton, were both attacked and beaten. In Tremblay's case investigation disclosed he had suffered his injuries at the hands of two of his shipmates.

Police reserves were ordered out during the morning when a crowd of strikers and sympathizers gathered at the approach to the Canadian Naltiona pier.

The crowd dispersed quietly on arrival of the officers.

AT NEW WESTMINSTER

Peaceful conditions also prevailed on the New Westminster waterfront as loading of the steamships Leeds City and Uganda proceeded under police protection.

Officials of the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association, the striking union, announced they had received a cable from the seamen's union of Kobe, Japan. The cable read: "Received yours. In-

MANCHUKUAN BORDER FIGHT

Japanese Make New Demands on Chinese in Chahar Province

Associated Press

Tokio, June 26.—A Manchukuan frontier patrol of eighty men battled a Chinese force of 700 soldiers along the sanguinary Jehol-Chahar frontier to-day, advices to the Manchukuan War Office reported.

Rengo (Japanese news agency) dispatches from Hsinking said the Manchukuan patrol was that which first encountered 500 Chinese troops Monday, 200 more Chinese having arrived from Tushihkou while a larger Manchukuan detachment was under orders to hasten to the battleground.

The advices to the War Office, also coming from Hsinking, capital of the Japanese-advised state of Manchukuo, said the bloody conflict was taking place north of Tushihkou on the ill-defined north China frontier.

Japanese regulars in garrison at Jehol City sprang into readiness, but the general headquarters which controls the army high command in

Some of the candidates, including Premier L. P. D. Tilley, appeared on a platform yesterday evening for the last time before the polling. A review of his government's record and intentions was heard from the Premier.

At Moncton yesterday evening Mr. Dysart made charges of "Deceptive tactics, broken promises, treachery, extravagance and incompetence" against Conservative administrations in New Brunswick since 1925.

Transient Relief Total Is Higher

During Last Twelve Months 850 Families From Other Provinces Went on Relief Rolls Here; Provincial Relief Is 10 Per Cent Lower

Although B.C. relief lists showed a 10 per cent reduction in May as compared with last year, provincial relief authorities drew attention to the fact that the number of transient families receiving aid had increased by 851 during the year.

This, it was explained, represents 3,241 extra people on the relief rolls of the province. They were families who came from other parts of the Dominion and, within a short time after their arrival, applied for relief.

The movement out of British Columbia to other provinces was negligible, it was stated. The net effect, therefore, was that British Columbia had to accept responsibility for 851 families from other provinces.

This was the only section of the relief rolls which did not record a substantial decrease in May as compared with last year. The total this year, including heads of families, dependents, single persons and men in national defence department camps, was 94,908, against 105,108 in May, 1934, and 98,995 in April this year.

Relief totals for the first five months as compared with the last two years were:

January	121,234	111,001	100,771
February	126,902	112,398	104,712
March	128,858	115,725	102,083
April	122,045	109,418	98,995
May	116,508	105,108	94,908

March, 1933, was the peak month since relief started in 1931.

Bear Trap Snags Elusive Porker

Special Drug From Agricultural Department Arrived Just Too Late to Catch Alta Lake Pig

A bear trap and some sour milk proved the downfall of the "greasy pig of Alta Lake" and a seductive drug furnished by the Department of Agriculture was not required to catch the elusive porker.

Some weeks ago an Alta Lake farmer wrote the department asking for help in catching the pig which escaped from a shipping crate. All the ordinary methods of pig-catching had failed, he said, and requested help.

Agricultural experts sent him a paralyzing drug to mix with the pig's food.

On the day the drug arrived, however, the farmer had achieved success. He had chased the pig all day, tiring it out. The porker's usually nimble wits were dulled from his efforts and he did not suspect the appetizing dish of milk beside a bear trap the farmer had carefully laid.

The farmer returned the drug to the Department of Agriculture with gracious thanks for the trouble gone to by the authorities.

Transferable Vote Plan Is Abandoned

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—Proposal of the government to introduce the single transferable vote system in Saskatchewan for the next general election will be abandoned, according to information to-day.

This would strengthen the possibility of prorogation at the end of this week, although some doubt exists that the Senate would have time to deal with Commons legislation by that time even if the lower House had completed its work.

When the Dominion Elections Act amendment to apply the alternative vote to Saskatchewan was introduced a fortnight ago it met with a storm of disapproval from Liberal members, some of them declaring they would stay in session all summer to oppose it.

Yesterday the question was discussed at the first government party caucus to be held since February and it is understood a statement will be made in the House, perhaps to-day, to the effect the government is not committed to the proposal and is willing to withdraw it.

GRAIN BOARD

Legislation to create a Dominion grain board with exclusive powers to market Canada's wheat crop remains the greatest threat to early prorogation, and it is understood amendments to this measure are contemplated and that it will be made much more acceptable to Liberal opponents.

British Watch New Tax Scheme In U.S.

Roosevelt's Inheritance Levy and Other Proposals Interest Observers

Associated Press

Washington, June 26. — President Roosevelt said to-day he wants the new United States wealth tax programme enacted at this session of Congress, but not necessarily as a part of the Emergency Nuisance Tax Bill due to pass by Saturday.

Prior to the President's announcement at a press conference, House Ways and Means Committee Democrats served notice on Senate leaders they intended to insist on originating a new tax bill to carry out the President's programme for a wider distribution of wealth. They did that through a resolution, adopted at a secret meeting.

DELAY IN SENATE

Meanwhile, the tax programme encountered delay in the Senate, which caused Democratic leaders to concede there was little hope of getting it enacted by Saturday night.

A session of the Senate finance committee to act on some of the levies was called off because treasury and legislative drafting experts had not completed work on the tentative rate schedules.

Discussing his recommendation for a new tax system to apply to the wealthy, Mr. Roosevelt said its primary purpose was twofold—to obtain revenue and to provide a better social order.

Vancouver Man, Guided By Principles of Movement, Returns Souvenir He Took Years Ago From Local Hotel

The conscience of a Vancouver man, who several years ago took a souvenir in the form of a metal padholder from his room at the Dominion Hotel, pricked him since he became a convert to Oxford Group principles, and he has returned the article to its owner.

The letter explaining the incident, received by the Dominion Hotel management June 23, reads in part:

"A desire to bring home a souvenir from the hotel overcame me, and I pried from the wall of the room the small metal padholder that you had beside your phone. I am returning it to you, minus the paper, and asking your forgiveness for the inconvenience it must have caused you.

"You might wonder why I am returning this to you after having had it for so long. Well, some time ago I, through the influence of the Oxford Group, surrendered my life to God.

"I have been putting some things right and I have already found that God's peace, power and happiness are gifts which I can enjoy every moment of my life."

NEW INDUSTRIAL AID IN BRITAIN

London, June 26.—The government is embarking on a planned industrial policy as an aid to employment, political circles have learned.

Intentions of the cabinet were disclosed when Sir Horace Wilson, chief industrial adviser to the government, was transferred to Premier Stanley Baldwin's own staff.

The government's recent decision to give railroads $240,000,000 (about $200,000,000) for improvement of transportation facilities around London, it was understood, was the first step in the general planned policy.

Attorney - General Urges Public to Co-operate in Wiping Out Chains

Associated Press

Washington, June 26.—Declaring a nation-wide ring of chain bucketshop swindlers is mulcting the United States public of "millions," Attorney-General Cummings yesterday made a plea for public co-operation to wipe out the "racketeers."

Evidence collected by the Justice Department, Mr. Cummings said in an interview with the Associated Press, points to bucketshop headquarters in New York and Chicago.

"We know the names of the leaders," he said, "but it will take co-operation of both the public and legitimate brokers to put them where they belong—behind the bars of a federal prison.

"With unquestioned superior ability as salesmen, with thousands of dollars to spend on elaborate offices, long distance telephone calls and telegrams, and an indirect system of payoff, the swindlers offer one of the most serious menaces to law enforcement in the country to-day."

CLASSES OF VICTIMS

Most of the victims, Mr. Cummings said, are doctors, lawyers, professors and businessmen.

"Actually," he said, "these men are convinced they have lost their money in a legitimate investment. Usually they are afraid to complain to federal officers because these smooth racketeers always have the victims in debt after they have cleaned them."

POWER SCHEME IN MANCHUKUO

Company Plans to Build Fifteen Big Plants in Five Years

Canadian Press

Mukden, Manchukuo, June 26.—A gigantic five-year plan, which will involve the building of fifteen new power plants, the investment of 85,000,000 yen, and the bringing of electric light and power to the villages and farms of Manchukuo, has been announced by the Manchuria Electrical Industry Company. At to-day's exchange 85,000,000 yen is equal to about $25,000,000 in Canadian money.

The plants will be located at Mukden, Hsinking, the new capital, Harbin, Tsitsihar, Taonan, Yahho, Holikang, Hailar, Changte (Jehol City), Chifeng, Antung, Hsian, Dairen, Yingkou and Port Arthur. From these plants transmission lines will run for tremendous distances, and transformer stations will be built at frequent intervals. There is little water power in Manchuria, but coal is plentiful and cheap, so the plants will be coal burning.

GROWTH FORESEEN

At present, although Manchukuo has more than 30,000,000 people, there are only 1,834,000 electric light bulbs in use, and the annual power demand is for 397,000,000 kilowats. It is planned that by the end of 1939 there should be 2,626,000 bulbs in use, and that the power demand should be for 897,547,000 kilowats.

At present, except for the few larger cities and towns, Manchukuo is lighted at night with coal oil lamps, and the poorer peasants burn wicks in open bowls of vegetable oils. The use of power for machinery is in its infancy, except in the larger manufacturing plants owned by Japanese and by foreigners.

OPPOSED TO ALL BENNETT ACTS

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—Jean Francois Pouliot, French-Canadian Liberal from Temiscouata, went on record in the House of Commons yesterday evening as being opposed to every measure the Bennett government has passed since 1930. It was wholesale denunciation of everything the government has done in five years, said the Quebec member, excluding nothing.

"If this government has done it, then I'm against it," he said.

AGITATORS ARE SCORED

R. L. Maitland, K.C., Tells Vancouver Audience Canadians Desire Stability

Vancouver, June 26.—For three years the agitator has had a Roman holiday, declared R. L. Maitland, K.C., who was a minister without portfolio in the late Tolmie government, in an address to-day to a combined meeting of the Canadian Club and the Women's Canadian Club of Vancouver.

Stating Canada is emerging from the world depression despite the presence still of a little fear complex, Mr. Maitland asked his hearers to follow the lead of Canada's pioneers who laid the foundations of a great country by pursuing a determined, but orderly orthodox procedure.

"Any man who knowingly and wilfully enlarges, distorts or misrepresents conditions for political advantage is a menace," he said.

"The masters of the art and science of self-advancement by playing on the heartstrings of people caught in the depression have made a temporary advance. Abuse of public men who are doing the best they can under difficult circumstances has been a happy pastime often indulged in.

"One of our beliefs is that constituted authority prevails. We have no room here for those who, coming from a country that has not these things, would visit the sins of their fathers upon the Canadian people.

"We are not asking for immigrants to teach us what the laws should be, what our ideals should be, or how the country should be run.

MUST OBSERVE LAWS

"We have no room for anyone who does not love and respect the rule that citizens must abide by the laws of our country . . .

"For people who are not with us on these things there is plenty of room on a transport outward-bound to the place whence they came. What we need is an immigration law with larger and sharper deportation teeth."

MORE RIOTING IN EDINBURGH

Five Anti-Catholics Fined After Yesterday Evening's Clashes

Edinburgh, Scotland, June 26.—Five more anti-Catholics who participated in disturances yesterdbay evening in connection with Roman Catholic Eucharistic celebrations here, were fined £10 ($50) each to-day in sheriff's court.

Hundreds of mounted policemen patrolled the city's streets after the anti-Catholic demonstrations.

The area in which the outbreaks occurred widened, but police succeeded in dispersing a crowd of 15,000 Protestant extremists after a night of turmoil in which one of the mounted officers was injured.

The rioting broke out anew yesterday evening when Protestants attempted to break up an organized procession of the Blessed Sacrament by members of the Catholic community, being held in connection with a Eucharistic congress.

MANY POLICE CALLED

Main streets adjoining the grounds of St. Andrew's Priory were jammed with Protestants, and the rioting, when it began, spread so quickly that 300 police, including mounted officers, were called out to handle the situation.

Cries of "No Popery" and "Down with the Pope" were hurled at the Catholics as they arrived at the priory. The crowd continued shouting during the service.

SEVEN FINED

A similar riot on Monday, in which police charged some 3,000 Protestants who hurled bottles and stones at Catholic women and priests, resulted yesterday in conviction of seven men of creating a breach of the peace. They were fined £10 each, failing payment of which they were to serve one month in jail.

As the crowds became uglier in their attitude yesterday evening officials of the Protestant Action Society appealed to all Protestants to assist police in restoring order.

British Watch New Tax Plan In U.S.

more than a quarter of a century's experience with high death duties has left economists still divided as to their effect and merit.

The parliamentary committee on national debt and taxation, in a recent exhaustive tax study, found that 150 years would be required to reduce an estate from $10,000,000 to $1,000,000, assuming the estate passed every thirty years to a single heir who failed to increase its value.

British death duties are divided into three categories. Estate duties range from 1 to 40 per cent, depending on the size of the fortune. Legacy and succession duties range from 1 to 10 per cent, depending on the relationship of inheritors.

Camp Men Grouped At Regina To-day Deciding Course

they have collected $11,600, about half of which was spent for food in Vancouver before the movement to the federal capital began.

The 2,000 relief camp strikers welcomed the delegation back to Regina when the train from the east arrived to-day.

Arthur Evans, spokesman for the delegation, which went to Ottawa while the main body of men from British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan remained here, briefly reported on the interview with the federal government.

Meanwhile a registration office was opened at the exhibition grounds by federal authorities and work began of establishment of a demobilization camp at the farm of Barclay Muir, three and a half miles east of Lumsden, thirty-five miles north of here. Return of the men to their homes was the ultimate objective of the demobilization camp establishment.

REPORTS REFUSAL

After describing the interview with the federal government, Evans declared Prime Minister R. B. Bennett had flatly rejected all demands of the strikers. The Prime Minister, said Evans, had denied all claims and allegations set forth by the delegation.

During the interview, said Evans, the Prime Minister had made "slanderous statements" about himself. A lawyer of the Canadian Labor Defence League in Toronto had the remarks of the Prime Minister under consideration and Evans said that if "$20,000 was collected" from the Prime Minister, it would be given to the strikers' fund.

Because of statements made by the Prime Minister, Evans said he had been "forced to call him a liar."

"LITTLE CONSIDERATION"

The delegation had been given little consideration by the government, he charged, and he added the Prime Minister "was obsessed with the red horror." He quoted the Prime Minister as saying the food, shelter and clothing provided in the camps were the best, and his statement brought boos from the strikers.

REPORTS AID

Support and endorsement given the delegation on its way to Ottawa and on its return were described by Evans. The endorsement had come from relief camp men and jobless protesting against conditions, and was not the result of Communist activity, he declared.

Men in Brandon, Winnipeg and points in eastern Canada were ready to join the trek to Ottawa, he declared. Action in planning a national trek to Ottawa, placed in charge of the Workers' Unity League and the National Unemployed Council, would not affect what action the strikers here might decide to take although co-operation would be given.

MASS MEETING

Besides the meeting of the strike committee to consider what action the strikers would take, a mass meeting will be held to-night.

AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, June 26.—On their way to Regina, the eight delegates sent by the relief camp strikers to Ottawa, spent two hours in Winnipeg yesterday evening.

Addressing a crowd of more than 2,000 in the Market Square here, Arthur Evans, leader of the delegation, declared he was determined "the strike should be broadened out into a national movement." He cautioned against hooliganism, however, and stated the splendid discipline and orderliness which the British Columbia and Alberta contingents had shown would induce sympathy for the strikers' cause.

"We must go to Ottawa," he stated. "We must go in an organized and disciplined manner. If you do not want to go that way," he told the gathering, "you had better stay at home. We anticipate that within a week we will be here in Winnipeg on our way to sweep the relief camps off the earth and get a real scheme of work and wages."

Anxious to avoid unrestrained demonstrations, authorities in Winnipeg kept vigil as plans for the trek eastward gathered momentum. More than 1,500 strikers were camped here, ready to join the "army" from the prairies. There was no outward display of civil authority, but police guards were reinforced at strategic points to protect property.

HELD PARADE

A crowd of 1,500 Manitoba camp strikers and Winnipeg unemployed demonstrated on the vacant lots back of the station prior to the arrival of the train from the east bearing the strike delegates yesterday evening.

Whn the train arrived the "army" formed fours and marched to the Market Square where they were addressed by Evans. The leaders of the strikers here, in company with Tim Buck, recently arrived Communist leader from the east, escorted the Regina delegation to the mass meeting.

NEW DEMANDS

Major-General Kenji Doihara, chief political negotiator for the Japanese military, was instructed from Hsinking to present fresh demands to the Chinese "for establishment of peace and order in Chahar," including withdrawal of all Chinese troops in Chahar to points "south of the Great Wall."

Which section of the Great Wall was meant was not specified. One section crosses Chahar just south of Kalgan, while the other skirts the southern border of the province.

If the latter was meant, the Japanese were demanding the entire province be cleared of Chinese troops.

IMMEDIATE ATTACK

Japan's continental military leaders were reported to-day in Rengo (Japanese) news agency dispatches from Hsinking to have ordered an immediate attack on "offending" Chinese forces.

The officers, in an emergency staff meeting at the capital of Manchukuo, were said to have decided military operations were necessary to meet a crisis on the Jehol-Chahar border.

A Manchukuan detachment was assigned to the attack after Japanese sources charged that Chinese troops had violated the Manchukuan border and fired on a Manchukuan border patrol under the command of Japanese officers.

Prospects for a bloodless settlement of the north China dispute faded, the news agency reported, as the Japanese garrison at Jehol City awaited only the word "go" for an advance into the Chinese Chahar province.

Talks Fail To End Ethiopia Dispute

AIR AGREEMENT

In Paris, Mr. Eden will renew his conversations with Premier Pierre Laval, begun on the way to Rome. Then M. Laval had a number of questions to put concerning the British idea of procedure on the projected air locarno.

Mr. Eden could only give a provisional reply. The cabinet to-day had the matter under consideration. To-morrow Mr. Eden will be able to speak with more definite instructions.

He also will report to Premier Laval the results of his conversations with Premier Mussolini.

Britain has requested Germany to furnish more details about her proposed rate of naval construction. Until the German reply is received, it is not proposed to begin conversations with French naval experts.

Associated Press

Rome, June 26.—Official sources intimated to-day as Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden departed for London, the British doplomat's conversations with Premier Mussolini had not changed Il Duce's determination to make a "complete solution" of the Italo-Ethiopian problem.

Mr. Eden's farewell, if anything, was cooler than the cool welcome he received on his arrival. He had a short talk with Fulvio Suvich, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, at the railroad station.

Diplomatic circles were of the opinion the only course left for Mr. Eden was to find some formula for the League of Nations under which Italy could remain a member should war break out in Ethiopia.

This formula would have to be based, these sources pointed out, on charges Ethiopia had not fulfilled the conditions under which she entered the League.

DECLARED WORTH WHILE

Meanwhile, high British authorities pronounced Mr. Eden's conversations wil Il Duce, which ended to-day, had been "worthwhile."

Great Britain's Minister for League of Nations Affairs bore a full portfolio of reports, emphasizing Italy's determination not to back down in her dispute with Ethiopia, but pointing out the possibility of continued solidarity among Britain, France and Italy.

Italian official circles described Mr. Eden's interview with Premier Mussolini on the East African controversy as one "of the greatest frankness," insisting Mussolini had asserted a full protectorate over Ethiopia was the only solution he could accept under the circumstances.

UNITED FRONT

An official communique indicated, however, Italy and Britain were in agreement on the possibility of maintaining their united front with France, set up in principle at the Stresa conference.

Before Mr. Eden's visit, this solidarity was believed to have been threatened by Great Britain's conclusion of the Anglo-German naval agreement without consulting Italy or France.

BRITISH POLICY IS "OPEN DOOR"

Associated Press

London, June 26.—Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons to-day the situation in north China does not call for any special government action at present.

The whole course of the British policy, he said, was directed to the protection of treaty rights and the "Open Door" policy.

Sir A. G. Anderson New British M.P.

Canadian Press

London, June 26.—Sir Alan Garrett Anderson, Conservative, to-day was elected by acclamation to the House of Commons as member for the City of London seat.

Sir V. Bowater and E. C. Grenfell were returned unopposed in the two-member seat in the 1931 general elections. It is considered the safest Conservative constituency in Britain.

The seat was vacated by the member's elevation to the peerage.

Noted British Sportsman Dies

Sir Claude C. de Crespigny Had Life of Adventure in Many Countries

London, June 26. — Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny, famous sportsman, died to-day at his home in Maldon, Essex. He was eighty-eight.

Probably no British sportsman during the last 100 years had more adventures and hairbreadth escapes in many parts of the world. The description once applied to him of "a modern d'Artagnan" seems inadequate.

In India he got into and out of the coils of a python. On another occasion he shot and wounded a tiger that had trapped him in the jungle.

In East Africa he killed a charging rhinoceros by breaking its neck at a distances of two paces with a soft-nosed bullet.

He was the only European who ever swam the narrow gut of the First Nile cataract.

MANY ACCIDENTS

His mishaps were many. He broke both legs in a balloon accident. On the hunting field he broke his arms three times and his ribs three times in steeplechasing. His fingers were broken several times in boxing. All this he regarded as a small price for gratifying his passion for hazardous adventure.

At the age of sixty-three he challenged his cousin, Lord Kenyon, to a duel with any weapons he liked. Lord Kenyon refused to take the matter seriously.

Sir Claude celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday by taking a somersault dive from a height of thirty feet into icy water.

Lady de Crespigny, who died in February at the age of eighty-five, was almost as daring and certainly as charming and witty as her husband.

BOY KILLED BY QUARRY BLAST

Three Men Critically Hurt By Premature Explosion in Texas

El Paso, Tex., June 26.—A boy was killed and three workers were critically injured to-day by a huge geyser-like funnel of rocks and shale projected by a premature explosion of dynamite at a cement quarry here.

The full dynamite crew of the nine men was at first believed killed, but all were accounted for several hours later.

The blast, audible for miles, occurred at the operation of the Southwestern Portland Cement Company, shortly after 9 a.m. The charge had been sunk deep in the earth for one of the periodic explosions, set for to-morrow afternoon, to remove limestone.

H. S. Sparks, the superintendent, knew his sixteen-year-old son, Stephen, was near the dynamite crew, and ran frantically into the dust of the explosion, climbing over huge boulders, only to find the young man had been crushed to death.

Three laborers were hurried to hospitals, reportedly in a dying condition.

structed members of the situation and will not participate in unfair cargo work."

A cable outlining the waterfront dispute here was sent to the Japanese Seamen's Union at the request of Japanese waterfront workers in Vancouver, officials stated.

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 26.—Ivan Emery, president of the Longshore and Water Transport Workers of Canada, has been released from jail after posting $5,000 bail and entering into his own recognizance for the same amount. Bail was furnished by five longshoremen who put up their homes as security.

Emery will be tried at the fall assizes on a charge of inciting to riot. Bail was fixed in country court by Judge J. C. McIntosh.

Toronto, June 26 (Canadian Press)—Protest against the double hanging to-morrow of Frank and Fred Temple, St. Thomas, Ont., father and son, was forwarded yesterday to Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie by the death penalty and vivisection abolitionists of Toronto.

FLOODS MENACE ALBERTA TOWN

Edmonton, June 26.—A warning that unless flood control works are undertaken immediately the little northern town of Slave Lake would be wiped out was issued here to-day by C. W. Fredericks, editor of The Peace River Record.

Mr. Fredericks arrived from the Lesser Slave Lake flood area, reporting the town of Faust is almost under water now.

Along the shore of Lesser Slave Lake 100 men toiled to-day to repair flood damage and railway officials expected rail communication with the Peace River district would be restored late this week.

SENATE WADES THROUGH BILL

Fifteen Sections of Combines Investigation Measure Approved By Committee

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—With several amendments, the Senate banking and commerce committee to-day waded through the Combines Investigation Bill and approved fifteen of the twenty-eight sections. It will consider the measure to transfer administration of the act from the Minister of Labor to the proposed new Dominion Trade and Industry Commission further to-day at a second sitting.

Under one amendment, a merger, trust or monopoly would include a person or combination of persons who in any particular district, or generally in Canada, "substantially" control any class of business. The insertion of the world "substantially" is designed to be more embracing than the definition approved in the Commons.

POWERS OF INQUIRY

A second amendment deals with the provision under which the commission may cause an inquiry to be made. It would limit applications of six or more persons for an investigation to instances where it was believed a combine existed and would not apply to cases where it was believed a combine was "being formed."

STABILIZATION FOR RECOVERY

U.S. Delegates at World Chamber of Commerce Congress Stress Need

Associated Press

Paris, June 26. — Leaders of the United States delegation to the world congress of the International Chambers of Commerce took the stand to-day that stabilization of world currencies must be the first step toward international trade recovery.

Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machine Corporation, replying to an assertion by British cotton industry representatives that stabilization is of secondary importance to a wholesale rise in commodity prices, declared:

"Stabilization is not a cure-all, but we must begin somewhere, and the breaking down on currency walls brings necessary relief to world trade."

NEED NEW DISTRIBUTION

A. Filene, Boston merchant, told the congress the world must adopt a system of distribution capable of supplying an outlet for mass production.

The Bostonian's plea for world adoption of a voluntary chain system of independent stores for distribution and purchase created a stir at the congress and brought approval from many leading European merchants.

SHIP AGROUND IS TOTAL LOSS

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 26.—The Canadian Freighter City of Victoria of the British Canadian Steamship Ltd., which went aground on rocks near Cape Yerimo Light, Hokkaido, Japan, in rough seas and heavy fog Friday, is a total loss, the steamship company was informed to-day.

The vessel left Vancouver May 28 with a cargo of lumber for Tsingtao and Tacu-bar, China. Both the vessel and her cargo are insured. The company reported underwriters are calling for tenders for the wreck.

GOOSE AND GANDER

ONE OF THE TROUBLES WITH THE international armament situation is the ancient belief that what is sauce for the goose is also sauce for the gander. The difficulty with this is that if your flock of geese and ganders is too large, all hands wind up in a worse position than the one from which they started.

In other words, there is no logical argument by which you can upset the statesman's plea that until other countries disarm his own country must maintain a big military establishment. And yet when all statesmen adopt that viewpoint, what you get is nothing less than one of those armament races that lead with frightening speed and precision to war.

A survey of the present situation shows all the great nations preparing feverishly for war; and the general point of view is neatly illustrated by recent remarks of Sir Phillip Cunliffe-Lister, Air Minister in the British cabinet.

"Adequate strength is the most effective deterrent of war, and the expansion of our air force is not a panic measure," he says. "We will work for limitation of armaments, for an air pact, and for peace, but we can not hope to obtain these objectives until our own strength is adequate."

Now there simply is no quarreling with this statement. In the present condition of European affairs, no British government could afford to go unprepared. Indeed, it is probably quite true that the prospects for continued peace in Europe are better when England is amply defended than they are when she is not.

And yet—what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. If Britain must spend millions getting ready for a fight, so must everyone else. Each nation can adopt this attitude of the British Air Minister; each nation can honestly and sincerely desire peace and disarmament, but bow to the necessity of keeping up its strength as long as everyone else does the same—and in the end you get that invention of the devil himself, the armament race.

Where is the way out of this dilemma? It is not visible to the naked eye. It may be, indeed, that disarmament will have to wait for the appearance of some government brave enough to reduce its own forces without waiting for other nations to do the same. And that prospect, human nature being what it is, is a painfully remote one.

CEDAR GROVE PARK

THE CITY COUNCIL DESERVES hearty commendation for the admirable programme of improvement which has just been completed at the new Goldstream Park below the Malahat Drive. Some of the dense underbrush has been cleared away, new pathways have been made and the locality has been improved in many other ways. This picturesque spot always has been a popular picnic resort, and it may be assumed that its popularity now will increase. It is to be hoped that the work of the City Council there will have the co-operation of the public in the preservation of the area in good condition. There are other choice localities in Greater Victoria which would lend themselves to similar improvement, and it is to be hoped that the municipalities involved will be able to develop them as picnic places.

The park near the Malahat Drive has been given the name of Cedar Grove. No doubt the change from the commonly-accepted designation of Goldstream Park was intended to avoid confusion with the resort at Goldstream proper, a few miles away, which at one time was one of the favorite picnic spots of Victoria. When the park authorities of this city and the beaches and parks committee of the Greater Victoria district have completed their programme the community will be able to boast of as large and diversified a collection of recreational resorts as any place of similar size on the Coast.

CALMS FEAR OF DUST STORMS

WITH THE THREAT OF WIDESPREAD dust storms allayed by recent heavy rains, it is comforting to sit back and listen to a less hysterical view of the situation than that shouted to the country by various experts from time to time.

Such view is that of Dr. J. W. Humphrey, of the U.S. Weather Bureau, who discounts the dire prophecies of America's great grain belt turning into a vast unproductive waste. Only a complete climatic upheaval such as the one that occurred centuries ago to transform fertile North African lands into the Sahara could leave the midwest a desert, the scientist avers.

That transformation came through countless ages while Europe was emerging from its ice cap, and involved great shifting of air currents to new courses as the ice melted beneath their northern ranges.

Therefore, as long as the frozen north remains frozen, Humphrey declares, no radical climatic change is scheduled for this continent—and he adds that, though the ice probably will melt there some day, such happening is unlikely for the next 5,000 or perhaps 10,000 years.

So it seems, if we take this brighter view, that the prophets of gloom might well seek a new field in which to play their Jeremiah roles, while government officials and farm leaders go intelligently about their task of combating erosion and other factors giving rise to the dust menace.

AFTER THE ILL WIND

MAYBE THIS LATE LAMENTED chain-letter craze was not entirely a dead loss, after all.

Postal authorities at Denver, for example, where the whole business started, checked up on the results the other day, and discovered that the extra mail caused by the fad netted Denver post office workers extra pay to the extent of about $20,000.

Furthermore, the United States profited, Denver post office receipts for the two months the fad lasted running some $50,000 above normal.

It is both surprising and gratifying to learn that this, one of the silliest fads people ever took up, actually did someone some good. In fact, it looks as if everyone profited by it—except the suckers who mailed the dimes and the dollars.

A WARRIOR SHUNS WAR

IT IS RATHER UNUSUAL TO FIND Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler appearing as an apostle of world peace. Unusual—and exceedingly gratifying!

Germany, says Hitler, has a great task of internal reform to accomplish, and must avoid war if she is to succeed at it. And then he goes on to add: "War always was futile. Every war first destroys the best people of a nation."

Truer words were never spoken. Coming, as they do, from the one European statesman who has seemed more ready than all others to resort to war, they are doubly impressive.

If the truth they voice can sink home everywhere, the great struggle to preserve world peace should be much easier.

JOHN McMILLAN

THOSE WHO WERE PRIVILEGED TO know intimately John McMillan, for many years general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway Communications, will have learned with sincere regret the news of his passing to the Great Beyond.

Mr. McMillan was a native of Liverpool, England, where he first saw the light of day in the fall of 1866. When he was only seventeen years old he came out to Canada with his parents. It was then that he entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway. And after working his way up through the operating department in Winnipeg, he assumed charge of the company's western lines in 1913. Two years afterward he became manager of the system. He retired in 1931.

Mr. McMillan was a kindly soul. All the newspapermen of his day counted him their friend. With Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he took a practical interest in the fine humanitarian work for the youth of Quebec at Shawbridge—he collaborated with his chief in this very praiseworthy enterprise.

Men of the type of John McMillan can ill be spared by Canada. His colleagues of the C.P.R. telegraph system are bowing their heads in tribute to his memory.

THE CASE OF THE RICH

THE POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL USED to be a subject of widespread pity, especially in plays and novels. Perhaps it was rather soothing to those of us who were never cursed by superfluous cash to reflect that you can have all the money in the world and still suffer from dissatisfaction and boredom.

Anyway, this ancient motif has popped into the news again. This time we have a wealthy young lady from Illinois who went to New York to see the sights a few months ago and who has found that a life of elegant idleness is all a snare and a delusion.

So she is advertising for a chance to undertake some feat of adventure or exploration; and she says: "I'm fed up with teas and cocktail parties—I want to do something real and exciting."

It all follows the time-honored tradition. And yet it is somehow hard to feel the pity we used to feel in such cases.

JUST FOLKS

By Edgar A. Guest

ANNIVERSARY

We have never had a word
In our nine and twenty years!
Does that sentence sound absurd,
As absurd as it appears?
Well, I'll change it and I'll add,
If we've argued in the past
Of the words that we have had
Hers have always been the last.

I've agreed that black is white
Many a time to get along.
She has sometimes said "all right"
When she knew that I was wrong.
But in looking back to-day
O'er the quarreling we've done,
Of our battles I would say
I've lost more than I have won.

After nine and twenty years
I believe that I can say
Just a bucketful of tears
I have had to kiss away.
There were times when I was mad,
There were times she'd sit and pout,
But the bitterest rows we've had
We have later laughed about.

Now our wedding day appears
And to this I fill the cup:
To our nine and twenty years'
Falling out and making up.
And I make this simple prayer
When the end for us occurs
And God calls us over there
That the last word shall be hers.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

PICTURE

A white lane goes
Into the west,
A lane that leaps
The great hill's crest.
On either side
Black pines stand up
Against the sun's
Bright golden cup.
Among the trees
Bold blackbirds wing;
Black branches sway,
Black needles swing.
The white road gleams
In day's last light;

Loose Ends

A horrid thought about our young constabulary—a successful mission to Ottawa—a bitter critic of capitalism in high places—and some economics on a park bench.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OUTSIDE CONTENT

THE FOLLOWING DISPATCH appeared in this newspaper the other day: "Hamilton, Ont., June 24—Charging that 75 per cent of Hamilton's older policemen are bald because they have been compelled to wear a heavy helmet for years, city policemen are agitating for caps."

Do not smile. This is a very grave issue, not only in Hamilton but in Victoria. Seventy-five per cent of our older policemen, I dare say, are bald because we have forced them to wear helmets for years. This is too bad, but nothing can be done about it now. We are not concerned, at their age, with the outside ornament of their skulls but rather with the inner content. That the inner content is of high quality is proved by the almost total absence of crime hereabouts.

But what about the handsome young fellows who have joined the force in the last few years? They have leaped forward to risk their lives against our desperate criminal class, our jay walkers and overtime parkers, to guard the safety and peace of their city in the first vigor of young manhood, outside and inside content of the skull complete and unimpaired. They are not only intelligent but decorative. Standing beside their little traffic windmill at the corner of Yates and Douglas, they present a striking picture which gives the girls, young and old, a sudden thrill. Tourists stand and admire them and remember the dingy cops back at home. Their beauty should be preserved along with the beauty of our landscape, with the dogwood trees on the Malahat and the broom on Beacon Hill.

Yet we behold them there, doomed to a middle age of baldness, outward content ruined by the observance of their duty, by the wearing of their heavy helmets. It is, indeed, melancholy to stand and watch a handsome young policeman at the corner of Yates and Douglas and realize that the seeds of his destruction are already sown, that his beauty is surely doomed, that the outward content will not last much longer, that he will soon be bald like anybody else. And what about the inner content? Is it not likely to be affected, too, by an insupportable weight from above? Horrid thought! Are we not, perhaps, robbing our constabulary of inner content as well simply to gratify our primitive Victorian love of the picturesque and the quaint?

SUCCESSFUL MISSION

ON THE WHOLE, I should think that the unemployment camp strikers would consider their descent on Ottawa a magnificent success. Of course, they couldn't have done it without the help of their good friend, Mr. Bennett. Let them never forget that. Let them never forget that it was Mr. Bennett who spread them favorably all over the front pages with his attacks on them and with his sudden realization that a revolution was under way in the country.

If Mr. Evans is really trying to organize communism in Canada, he should not be guilty of ingratitude to his chief ally, the federal government. Without its help in the last year or two, he wouldn't have got anywhere, not even to Ottawa. Mr. Evans and Mr. Tim Buck should kneel down every night and thank Providence for the federal government, without which they would have been just harmless fellows on soap boxes whom people smiled at. With the help of the federal government, the country is now taking them seriously.

The sudden discovery of the Prime Minister that the boys are inclined to be red and want to change our economic system was a remarkable performance. You would almost think that he had been asleep for the last four years like Rip van Winkle and, awaking to behold the depression, had rushed forth into the streets crying that the boom was over. It reminds me of a story about Chicken Licken, a favorite with the little boy next door, upon whose head a rose petal dropped one day. Chicken Licken rushed forth also to proclaim that the sky had fallen and the end of all things was at hand.

Of course, the boys are red. So would Mr. Bennett be if he were in an unemployment camp. So would you be. So would anybody of intelligence. You might be wrong, you might be foolish, you might be misguided and not know what you were talking about. But you would certainly be out to change the economic system. You would have nothing to lose and everything to gain by a change.

When enough people have nothing to lose and everything to gain by a change you get revolution. In Canada most of the people still have a lot to lose and don't want a revolution; still have private property of various sorts and propose to hang on to it. The notion that a couple of thousand lads from our unemployment camps are going to stage an October Revolution in the night, that we are going to wake up and find Mr. Buck and Mr. Evans in charge of the country one of these mornings and the guillotines working in the public squares, is too quaint and charming to make one annoyed.

Give these boys jobs, and ninety-nine out of 100 will cease to be red to-morrow morning. There are a few convinced communists in Canada, who know what communism is and what they propose to do with it, if they can. The rest of the so-called red element are just the hangers-on of discontent and despair, who don't know what communism is or what capitalism is, but are fed up with things in general.

They are growing in number as the years of depression pile up. You can't shout them down. Shrieking in Parliament only makes them mad, only increases their number, only encourages them when they observe hysterics in high places. The only way to handle them is to give them work. If the system won't provide honest work for every man who wants it in a country overflowing with resources and work to be done, then it's time the system was changed. But are you prepared to take Mr. Bennett's word that the system can't provide work? Isn't it possible he's too bitterly critical of capitalism?

ADVICE

IF MR. BENNETT would come out here for a few days, he'd get plenty of advice. The air is full of economics, the ground is fairly crawling with Utopias. I sat down on a bench in Victory Square, Vancouver, the other day to rest. On the bench next to me were two ragged fellows, blinking wisely in the sun. They had the look of men who came and sat on the bench to blink wisely in the sun every day.

"What," I heard one of them say, "is the use of fifty millions for public works in Canada? Just a drop in the bucket."

"They need twice that, at least," said the other.

"Twice!" said the first. "Twice would be no good. You need twenty or thirty times that. A billion wouldn't be too much."

"I guess you're right. We ought to spend a billion this year. But where would we get it?"

"Get it? Theres' no trouble about that. There's nothing to making money, nothing. You've got to remember that money isn't a commodity, it's a medium of exchange. You should study economics."

"I ade," said the other, apologetically.

"A billion a year is what we need," said the first. "And there's nothing to getting it. Money is the easiest patr of it. There's nothing to money."

He paused to pick a discarded cigar butt off the path and he borrowed a match from his friend to light it.

"Billions," he muttered between puffs, "billions. There's nothing to it."

Yes, Mr. Bennett ought to come out here if he wants to learn economics.

MINE MERGER IS PLANNED

Proposal Advanced in Vancouver For Absorption of Bradian By Bralorne

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 26.—Proposals whereby Bralorne Mines Limited would absorb Bradian Mines Ltd., will be submitted to shareholders of both companies at extraordinary general meetings to be held here July 11, it was announced to-day.

By terms of the agreement, Bradian would transfer the whole of its undertaking, property and assets to Bralorne in consideration of surrender by way of gift to Bradian Mines Limited of 1,200,000 shares of Bradian now held by Bralorne.

All obligations and winding-up expenses would be assumed by Bralorne, and Bradian would be allotted 240,000 shares of Bralorne for distribution among holders of 600,000 Bradian shares at teh ratio of one share of Bralorne for 2½ shares of Bradian.

Consideration of the two adjoining properties in the Bridge River district of British Columbia is recommended by Ira B. Joralemon, consulting engineer for both companies.

"After the merger, ore from both companies can be treated at the present Bralorne mill with a great saving of construction and operating cost," Mr. Joralemon reported.

Mr. Joralemon adds that a new mill at Bradian would cost about $800 per ton capacity and to build even a 100-ton plant the Bradian company would need to raise more money. Construction and operation of an independent mill would cause Bradian an additional expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars.

SAVING IN COSTS

As Bralorne already owns two-thirds of Bradian, it would injure Bralorne nearly as much. Merging of the properties would mean a saving of mining as well as milling costs, the engineer states.

The estimated cost of development and construction before production starts on Bradian ore is $240,000. Bradian cash amounts to $344,000. Value of the Bralorne plant is placed at $600,000

Bradian probable ore reserves are estimated at 104,000 tons, averaging 0.51 ounces gold per ton. The profits on this ore, Mr. Joralemon states, should be $10 per ton. Therefore, radian's expected profit on partly-developed ore, plus net cash, amount to about $1,114,000 or 63 cents per share.

Bralorne partly developed ore is estimated at 250,000 tons, averaging 0.38 ounces. Estimated profit on this ore after all taxes, is $4.50 per ton or $1,1000,000. Bralorne cash and gold in transit totals $258,000.

NO GRANT FOR COOK STREET

Repair Work Left in Hands of City Engineer and Works Executive

Alderman Archie Wills's second attempt to secure an appropriation of $3,000 to insure completion of necessary repairs on Cook Street failed at the City Council meeting yesterday evening when the work was left in the hands of the engineer and executive of the public works committee.

Work on repairing the street was started yesterday when city gangs were employed in leveling off the intersection at Fairfield Road.

Alderman Wills asked for a report from the city engineer on what he planned to do to the road, and what amount he intended to spend on it. The alderman understood the repairing of the intersection was going to cost about $500 alone. He was those waves," all along Cook Street anxious to "see the tops taken off and wanted $3,000 for the work. He noted that the Johnson Street extension had cost about $5,000, and he felt the setting aside of an appropriation would insure completion of the work satisfactorily.

Mayor Leeming stated there had been an estimate of $19,000 for works, and Cook Street was to receive a portion.

"But I want to get $3,000 for Cook Street," said Alderman Wills.

"Why $3,000?" asked Alderman J. A. Worthington.

"Because you were so far out when you told us that the Johnson Street extension cost $1,500, and it really cost $5,000," was the reply.

"I was not 5 cents out. That work did cost us $1,500, for materials," said Alderman Worthington.

"Well, I move again, Mr. Mayor, that $3,000 be allotted for Cook Street," said Alderman Wills.

"I second it," said Alderman McGavin.

Alderman P. R. Brown moved an amendment that the work be left in the hands of the engineer and the executive of the public works committee. The amendment carried.

AFTER REDUCED FREIGHT RATES

The industrial committee of the City Council will seek lower freight rates on Okanagan apples shipped to Victoria for cold storage at the local sitting of the Board of Railway Commissioners, Alderman R. A. C. Dewar announced at yesterday evening's meeting of the City Council.

When the council was advised that the date for the Victoria sitting was July 12, and there would be considered the application of the C.N.R. to abandon the Patricia Bay and Sidney lines, Alderman J. A. Worthington suggested this might provide the opportunity for those interested to obtain the long sought riding trail outside the city.

INSURANCE IS AGAIN DEBATED

Improper Procedure Results in Staving Off Decision For Taxis

Public liability insurance for taxi vehicles in the city was again debated at the City Council meeting yesterday evening, before the question was finally ruled out of order when it was discovered it had been recommended by the business and trade development committee without a majority vote of the committee.

Ald. Alex. Peden, chairman of the committee, stated he was not in favor of making this insurance compulsory because it was going to work a hardship on the smaller taxi operators in the city. It would take at least $75 to cover their machines, he stated, and they could not afford it.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, a member of the committee, stated all committee members had hesitated when the recommendation was made, but pointed out the council had a moral right to protect public safety where possible. He regretted having to support the move, but felt obligated to do so.

Alderman J. D. Hunter agreed with Ald. Peden, and Ald. Andrew McGavin also supported his remarks.

NO COMPENSATION

The mayor pointed out this was no satisfaction to a man who was injured and was not able to recover damages.

Alderman Archie Wills, as seconder of Ald. Dewar's motion in committee, stated his attitude had been to bring this question before the council, after it had been referred back to committee.

The mayor stated the name of Ald. Adam (who was absent from the meeting) was necessary to show a majority vote in committee on the question.

Ald. Dewar pointed out that Ald. Adam had supported the move in committee before, but final settlement was left over until his name was appended.

The amendment finally passed, with Aldermen Wills and McGavin voting against and the mayor recording his vote in the affirmative.

New Attack On Tuberculosis

Four Clinics to Be Added in Ontario, Government Decides

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 26.—Establishment of at least four new clinics in Ontario for prevention and treatment of tuberculosis was announced yesterday by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn following a conference with Hon. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health.

Under the direction of Dr. G. C. Brink, who heads the Toronto clinic, tuberculosis clinics are to be established in eastern Ontario, mid-eastern Ontario, and in two sections of northern Ontario, including Fort William.

The Premier stated the province paid some $750,000 in grants to sanitoria for tuberculosis patients. The cost, he said, could be lowered by preventive work and by traveling clinics.

In his recommendation to the Premier, Dr. Brink said the government's statutory grant per patient was 75 cents a day. Last year that amount was reduced 7½ per cent, but recently it was restored, and the sanatoria authorities had agreed the 7½ per cent should be transferred to the division of tuberculosis prevention for the purpose of carrying on the clinics.

Dr. Brink estimated 7½ per cent of the statutory grant would provide $60,000 for the clinics and would make possible a team of a trained physician and an X-ray technician in four sections of the province.

These teams will hold clinics in six to twelve centres within their district every three or four months, and their frequent visits will mean patients can be discharged earlier from sanitoria.

Stories in STAMPS

By H. S. Klein

THE WORLD WAR was hardly over when Newfoundland honored its soldiers and sailors who participated with the issue of a unique set of stamps. For the soldiers eight different values were printed, each inscribed, "The Trail of the Caribou," each illustrating the head of this animal, which was the symbol of the Newfoundland contingent and each value representing one of the eight major encounters in Europe in which these troops were engaged. These were Suvla Bay on the one-cent stamp, Gueudecourt on the two-cent, Beaumont Hamel on the three-cent, Monchy on the six-cent, Steenbeck on the ten-cent, Langemarck on the fifteen-cent, Cambrai on the twenty-four-cent and Combles on the thirty-sixt cent. The sailors' stamp also illustrating the caribou, was inscribed "Royal Naval Reserve," and all four of its values had the same sub-title, "Ubique," Latin for "Everywhere."

FIRST CATHEDRAL TROOP

A meeting of the group committee for the First Cathedral Troop was held on Friday to make final arrangements for the garden party to be held at "Schuhuum," the home of Miss K. Agnew, 1322 Rockland Avenue, this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Conveners were appointed as follows: General convener, Mrs. H. Holder; afternoon teas and teacup reading, Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. M. Coats and Mrs. F. Saunders; home cooking, Mrs. R. Warner and Mrs. F. Laughlin.

The rover crew of the group will look after the ice cream and soft drinks. Housie-housie, horse racing and coconut shy will be run by the boys of the troop.

Members of the Girl Guides will wait on the tea tables.

Pupils of the Russian Ballet School, under the direction of Dorothy Wilson, will dance during the afternoon.

Must Organize Youths' Leisure, Institutes Told

Federated W.I. President Stresses Need of Peace Education; Biennial Convention Hears Fine Reports

Canadian Press

Charlottetown, June 26.—Provision of a foundation fund for financing schemes to provide wholesome and profitable leisure time amusement for young people, similar to England's Jubilee project, was urged by Mrs. A. E. Walker of Bartonville, Ont., in her presidential address to the Federation of Women's Institutes in biennial convention here.

"Women's Institute members, who are usually community leaders, have exceptional opportunities for such a work in co-operation with the school and the church," the president said.

"These leisure time amusements might take the form of organized sport, drama, reading clubs, musical evenings, social gatherings and all pursuits that tend to mental, physical and moral development."

PEACE TEACHING

Mrs. Walker also made a strong plea for effort along the lines of international understanding and world peace, which could be accomplished in the home by fostering peace ideals in children's minds and by studying the home and community life of other peoples.

"It can be promoted in schools," Mrs. Walker continued, "by eliminating from text books parts that glorify war, by teaching elementary economics, by moving pictures of other lands and peoples, with a view to stimulating interest and admiration, and in communities by folklore recitals of other countries and by handicraft exhibits.

"Women's Institutes, too, can do a great international work through their affiliation with the Associated Country women of the world and the Pan-Pacific Women's Association organized for promoting peace on the Pacific," she claimed.

Bare and lonely farmsteads have been beautified and whole communities benefited through the agricultural and horticultural efforts of the Women's Institutes, said Mrs. C. A. Good of Nictaux, N.S., reporting today for the agricultural committee.

Exchange of perennials, shrubs, seedlings and cuttings, together with the study of natural plantings and results had often glorified a whole district. Shelter belts had been placed in bleak and wind-swept areas. Hard times had been lessened by the study and work-out of varied possibilities of the kitchen garden.

TIRED HUSBANDS

"Another gentle art which should be practiced generally," said Mrs. Good, "is to supplement the club work of farmer husbands, who often at the end of the long outdoor day are too drugged with sleep to do their part of planning country betterment. Women can give a quiet unobtrusive help here that is often more effective than all the aggressiveness in the world, and they need to be reminded of this, too."

Practically every one of the 2,600 W.I.'s in Canada devoted time to the study of agriculture, through the experimental farms, talks by experts and other ways, the report said. Saskatchewan clubs were studying markets.

British Columbia was pressing for a woman on the provincial marketing board. Prince Edward Island and British Columbia branches specialized on promotion of poultry, calf and potato clubs, and garden competitions for the children. Nova Scotia W.I.'s were trying out new vegetables.

Other agricultural activities included sponsoring flower and vegetable shows, preservation of forests, protection of bird life increasing in the west, and extermination of the pests.

HEALTH MEASURES

Co-operation with governmental departments and all movements for the prevention of disease and improvement of health conditions is the keynote of Women's Institute health activities throughout Canada, according to the national convener of the Public Health and Child Welfare Committee, Mrs. E. F. Petch, Hemmingford, Que.

Reporting yesterday Mrs. Petch said institutes had organized and assisted baby dental, eye, tonsil and adenoid, vaccination and immunization and tuberculosis clinics.

This had been done by providing halls, nurses, doctors and transportation for patients, doctors' bills, hospital bills, nursing care, eyeglasses, community emergency kits, layettes, hospital beds and equipment had been financed.

Institutes had acted as clearing houses in the distribution of health literature, pre-natal and post-natal letters, to lower the maternal and infant deatah rates by making mothers realize that the solution of this problem lies to a large extent in their own hands.

STERILIZATION STUDIED

While members in certain provinces had ruled against discussion of sterilization of the mentally unfit, in those provinces where legislation had been enacted, women were earnestly studying the subject. They were also keenly interested in all measures relating to public health and state medicine.

Throughout Canada the institutes had contributed to the Jubilee Cancer Fund, Mrs. Petch said. Saskatchewan had formed cancer study groups and Manitoba had contributed generously for the past two years to the Cancer Research Fund in the province.

Weddings

LILLIE—DANES

At the Bishop's Palace yesterday afternoon Rev. Father Roland Roberts united in marriage Marie Bernadette, eldest daughter of Mrs. John A. Danes, Yates Street, and of the late Mr. Danes, and Captain Eric Lillie of Vancouver, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lillie.

The bride, who was given away by her mother, Mrs. D'Arcy Danes, wore her smart traveling suit of Marina blue triple sheer georgette, and a white hat, and corsage bouquet of roses.

She was attended by Miss Bessie Turgoose, who wore a beige costume and a corsage bouquet of white carnations. Mr. Adolph Rochon was best man.

An informal reception was held after the service at the home of the bride's mother, where the guests were received by Mrs. Danes in a gown of black flat crepe and hat en suite. The decorations were carried out in pink and white.

After a honeymoon on the United States mainland, Captain and Mrs. Lillie will live in Victoria.

The bride graduated in 1933 from St. Joseph's Hospital training school for nurses.

McBEAN—DENNISTOUN

Of interest to their many friends in this city were the nuptials of Miss Mary Maxwell Dennistoun, Mr. Justice and Mrs. Dennistoun's younger daughter, and Athol Oscar McBean, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Athol McBean, Winnipeg, which were solemnized at 4 o'clock last Saturday afternoon in All Saints' Church, Winnipeg. Rev. William Askey presided over the service, with Canon Henry D. Martin assisting.

Feathery white peonies artistically grouped in tall standards at the chancel rail and ornamented the pulpit and the altar.

The full vested choir was in attendance and led the bride's procession singing "Lead Us Heavenly Father Lead Us."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in her gown of ivory satin scintillante favoring Empire lines. A sweeping circular train of the satin was an effective finish to the skirt and was overlaid by a court train of rose point lace, which extended from the shoulders.

Her veil of parchment tulle was worn off the face and draped from a flat bandeau of braided satin, secured at either end with a tiny cluster of orange blossom buds. She carried a shower bouquet of bouvardia, white gardenias and lily of the valley.

She was attended by three bridesmaids: Miss Joan Glassco, Miss Kitty Finch-Noyes of Oakville, Ont., and Miss Marmie Chivers. All were gowned alike in mimosa yellow waterfall organdie.

An effective color contrast was given by the tete de negre narrow sashes of cire satin ribbon. These matched in color the hats worn, which were of tete-de-negre French felt with wide brims.

All carried brown-centred golden marguerites.

Phillip McBean, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman and the ushers were: Messrs. Peter Currie, Tom Nichols, Hamliton, Ont.; Hugh Tuckwell, Fort William; Gordon Gilmour and Robert Richards.

At the close of the ceremony, the wedding party and guests repaired to the residence of Mr. Justice and Mrs. Dennistoun on Cockburn Street, where a reception was held on the grounds.

Mrs. Dennistoun, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of Grecian rose, triple sheer. Her hat was a wide-brimmed model of dahlia brown mohair lace, its upturned back secured with a brown taffeta bow, the loops separated by clusters of Grecian rose French violets.

She carried a bouquet of Claudia Pernet roses and deep brown giant pansies.

Mrs. McBean, mother of the bridegroom, was in hyacinth blue diagonal sheer crepe.

Her hat was an imported model of fine French straw, with upturned back, the front of the crown secured with a nosegay of blue cornflowers and marguerites centred with pale pink and American Beauty roses. She carried a bouquet of roses and maidenhair fern.

Mr. and Mrs. McBean left later for Banff, where the honeymoon will be spent. They will reside on Queenston Street, Winnipeg.

The bride traveled in an imported suit of navy blue Chanel crepe, allied with bands of navy blue lace, the coat bordered with blue fox. Her hat was an Agnes model of fine blue glace straw.

Mr. Neil A. McKelvie of The Colonist editorial staff, whose marriage to Miss Dorothy Burns of Vancouver was solemnized in the mainland city last Wednesday, has returned to Victoria with his bride, following their honeymoon at North Arm, Burrard Inlet. They are guests at the Dominion Hotel.

HOME IS OFTEN LUNCH COUNTER

Says Father Murray Before Catholic Women's League Convention

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—The home too often had become a railway lunch counter in an age of paganism that bred self-centred sons and daughters characterized by their snobbery and conceit, Rev. Captain W. L. Murray, M.C., of Campbell's Bay, Que., last night told the Catholic Women's League in national convention here.

Lack of parental responsibility was one cause, the distinguished war padre said. Parenthood was a dignified and honorable occupation, but it could not be run on a six-hour day, Father Murray warned.

Portrayal of marriage in motion pictures and books as the scene of continual conflict was scored by Mrs. T. H. Hay of Regina. Girls in their teens were particularly sensitive to this attitude toward the marital state, she said.

BIRTH RATES ARE DECLINING

Associated Press

Minneapolis, June 26.—A "surprising and unexpected" decline in the Catholic birthrate, discovered in a Wisconsin survey, was reported to the American Association fos the Advancement of Science yesterday by Professor S. A. Souffer, of the University of Wisconsin. Catholic families, however, he said, still are larger on the average than others.

Prof. Stouffer said "My investigation was entirely fact-finding, with no propaganda and no idea what the facts would be.

"It was surprising and unexpected to find a declining Catholic birthrate, contrary to what would have been expected in view of the efforts of the church to discourage birth control."

Summarizing—he found a decline in birth rates in Catholic families in Milwaukee of 15 per cent since 1919 against a 5 per cent drop among non-Catholics. For Wisconsin as a whole, limited to cities of more than 20,000 and not including Milwaukee, the decline was 14 per cent against 11 per cent.

Canadians Presented At Brilliant Royal Court

Queen in Shimmering Gown of Opalescent Paillettes, Escorted By Duke of York; Westerners Presented Last Night

Canadian Press Cable

London, June 26.—Buckingham Palace became a scene of glittering splendor last night as the third royal court of the season was held. Eighteen Canadian women were among the notables who curtsied before the Queen.

The King was still resting at Sandringham, Norfolk. He was expected back in London later this week but did not plan to attend to-night's court.

QUEEN A-GLITTER

The Queen wore a gown of opalescent paillettes, with train to match, which shimmered under the lights of the white-and-gold ballroom. She sat alone on a golden throne on a large crimson dais.

For the first time the Duke of Kent, resplendent in a blue and gold uniform, led his mother in the royal procession along the crimson-carpeted corridors to the court throne.

In the royal party were the Duchess of York, Lord Carnegie and Lady Maud Carnegie, Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, and the Earl of Athlone, and Major Abel Smith and Lady May Abel Smith.

Mrs. G. Howard Ferguson, who presented the Canadian women to Her Majesty, wore a gown of palest green and silver satin, with a bodice embroidered in diamante and crystal and an embroidered train of the same material lined with georgette.

WESTERNERS PRESENTED

Mrs. Rodney Keller of Winnipeg chose a blue crepe gown with silver thread and a train of silver lame.

Miss Celia Lucas of Vancouver wore a white and silver lame dress cut on simple lines, with a white satin train, edged with ruched net.

Mrs. Frank Duncan of Kirkland Lake, Ont., appeared in a romantic gown of soft blue taffeta faille with a billowing skirt, revealing an underskirt of cloth of silver.

Mrs. Christopher Vokes of Regina chose a model of ivory satin interwoven with diagonal stripes, bias cut and made with fullness from the knees, forming a fan-shaped train at the back.

Other Canadians presented were Mrs. Harvey Black of Westmount, Que.; Miss Pamela Browne of Montreal, Mrs. Robert Cassels, Miss Elaine Ellsworth, Mrs. Walter Green, Miss Althea Green, Miss Peggy Mackintosh, Miss Peggy Waldie and Miss Virginia Topping of Toronto, Mrs. Barry German of Ottawa, Mrs. Charles Homer Smith of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Miss Adelaide Harrison and Mrs. Rodolphe Timmins of Montreal.

BANDEAU FOR HAIR IS SUMMER BOON

Close Coiffure Suggested

(Coiffure by Dumas)

A bandeau-fastened coiffure like this always looks neat though breezes blow vigorously.

By ALICIA HART

A coiffure that will stay in place when she's riding in a rumble seat or playing a close game down the fairway is what the average woman considers important these days.

The curly, fussy hair styles are just as becoming as they were last winter, of course, but they simply are not practical. This is the time to decide on a casual arrangement that is not only easy to fix, but which will stay put.

Dumas, well-known coiffure expert, suggests that girls with short hair go in for sleek-on-top modes that end in tight curls across the back. In addition, he thinks it a good idea to wear narrow celluloid bandeaux, tiara fashion, to make doubly sure that no hairs blow this way and that.

When your favorite operator has washed your hair, ask him to smooth it backward from your brow, and, if your features can stand it, behind your ears. Have the ends rolled into small ringlets that can be pinned securely against your head. When it is dry, try several tiaras to find out which width and color suits you best.

Women with long hair might very well work out the same general idea, minus the curls. Forget about ringlets and waves that muss. Instead, sleek back your hair, rolling the long ends into a flat bun high on the back. This will keep your neck from getting too warm and is easier to keep in place than a low, rolled effect.

Remember, of course, that a bit of brilliantine will help to hold unruly locks in line. Use it sparingly, however, and spray it on with an atomizer.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DON'T URGE CHILD TO PUT FORTH "BEST FOOT" ALWAYS

The average demands made upon children by conscientious parents often fall upon stony soil. The urged-child—urged to put forward his best foot—balks like a mule against the parental dictum. His behavior is stubborn and rude because the parent offers him the opportunity to be so.

One of the commonest demands made by parents is that small children shall be sociable. This is an excellent aim and objective, but it does not allow for children's natural timidity, their utter lack of interest in both adults and manners and their tendency to refuse to participate in a social situation, for no reason at all.

YOUNG SCOWLER

It is the parent's response to such behavior which increases its chances of repetition.

Mrs. W. A. A. writes: "Please answer both phases of this problem. My two and one-half year old boy has a habit of scowling when I try to get him to talk to people we meet. He sticks out his lip and frowns something awful, and will hardly open his mouth. No amount of persuasion seems to do any good.

"Also, when children come to visit and I give them something to eat, he takes his portion with a scowl, gobbles it up as if he were famished and never expected to get another mouthful. It makes me so ashamed. What can I do?"

SIGHT DEFECT?

The scowling may be due to an actual sight defect. More probably it mirrors the child's agitation. He will forget his confusion if you will cease making his social experiences unpleasant by nagging and scolding. If no one casts menacing looks at him for his failures he'll soon forget his perturbation and answer those who address him, as he has heard you answer to a salutation.

Try playing tea party with the child daily, letting him be your guest and you his. If an afternoon lunch is no extraordinary treat he will not be so excited by it to embarrass you by gobbling. Our leaflet, "How to Handle the Timid Child," offers other suggestions and this has been sent to you. Any mother may have it who will send a self addressed and stamped envelope and ask for it. Address requests to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

It is absurd to expect a small child to act with the poise and assurance of a grownup and his lapses should be overlooked and not developed into conscious stubborness by your continued unfavorable attention to them.

To-morrow: "Avoid Encouraging Child to Establish Bad Bedtime Habits."

SALT SPRING ISLAND

In the third game of a series for the McFeely, McLennan and Prior Softball Cup the Young Liberal B team defeated the A team 7 to 6, playing on the Mahon Hall grounds at Ganges.

On Sunday afternoon Ganges softballers defeated Fulford 9 to 7 in a series for a cup presented by George Kingsley of the Fulford Inn. Winners of five matches out of seven will take the trophy.

The annual garden party for the Sunday school pupils of St. Paul's, Ganges, was held on Saturday at "The Alders," home of Mrs. V. C. Best, the principal. Games and tennis were played, followed by tea on the lawn. Later the vicar, Rev. C. H. Popham, gave a short address and presented the prizes as follows: Senior class, prizes for perfect attendance, Arthur Stacy, Bill Cost, Muriel and Rita Dewhurst; special prize to Arthur Stacey for a perfect attendance over six years. Two tied for the first prize in senior class work, Muriel Dewhurst and Arthur Stacey, Maureen Seymour ran a close second and was highly commended. In the junior class the prize was won by Raymond Seymour.

The first Salt Spring company of Girl Guides, under Mrs. T. Charlesworth, and the Brownie pack, with Mrs. F. Speed, held the annual "break up" for the summer holidays on Saturday at Vesuvius Bay. Two new guides enrolled were Margarita Lumley and Rita Dewhurst.

The pupils of the Divide school, with their teacher, Miss Florence Groves, held their annual school picnic this week at Vesuvius Bay.

Members of the Duncan A.Y.P.A. visited Vesuvius Bay by launch on Sunday for a picnic party, to which members of the Salt Spring A.Y.P.A. were invited.

Pirates of Venus

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1935

Explain it if you can; I cannot. It was just one of those things, as people say when a good team loses to a poor one; it was a break, and a bad one. How bad it was I did not even try to conjecture at the time; I just sat at the periscope watching the moon racing toward us. As we neared it, it presented the most gorgeous spectacle that I had ever witnessed. Each mountain peak and crater stood out in vivid detail. Even the great height of summits over 25,000 feet appeared distinguishable to me, though imagination must have played a major part in the illusion, since I was looking down upon it from above.

Suddenly I realized that the great sphere was passing rapidly from the field of the periscope, and I breathed a sigh of relief—we were not going to score a clean hit, we were going to pass by.

CHAPTER V

I returned then to the porthole. The moon lay just ahead and a little to the left. It was no longer a great sphere; it was a world that filled my whole vision. Against its black horizon I saw titanic peaks; below me huge craters yawned. I stood with God on high and looked down upon a dead world.

Our transit of the moon required a little less than four minutes; I timed it carefully that I might check our speed. How close we came I may only guess; perhaps 5,000 feet above the tallest peaks, but it was close enough. The pull of the moon's gravitation had definitely altered our course, but owing to our speed we had eluded her clutches. Now we were racing away from her, but to what?

The nearest star, Alpha Centauri, is twenty-five and a half million miles from earth. Write that on your typewriter — 25,500,000 000 miles. But why trifle with short distances like this? There was little likelihood that I should visit Alpha Centauri with all the wide range of space at my command and many more interesting places to go. I knew that I had ample room in which to wander, since science had calculated the diameter of space to be 84,000,000,000 light years, which, when one reflects that light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, should satisfy the wanderlust of the most inveterate roamer.

However, I was not greatly concerned with any of these distances, as I had food and water for only a year, during which time the torpedo might travel slightly more than 315,000,000 miles. Even if it reached our near neighbor, Alpha Centauri, I should not then be greatly interested in the event, as I should have been dead for over 80,000 years. Such is immensity of the universe!

During the next twenty-four hours the course of the torpedo nearly paralleled the moon's orbit around the earth. Not only had the pull of the moon deflected its course, but now it seemed evident that the earth had seized us and that we were doomed to race through eternity around her, a tiny, second satellite. But I did not wish to be a moon, certainly not an insignificant moon that in all probability might not be picked up by even the largest telescope.

The next month was the most trying of my life. It seems the height of egotism even to mention my life in the face of the stupendous cosmic forces that engulfed it; but it was the only life I had and I was fond of it, and the more imminent seemed the moment when it should be snuffed out, the better I liked it.

At the end of the second day it was quite apparent that we had eluded the grip of the earth. I cannot say that I was elated at the discovery. My plan to visit Mars was ruined. I should have been glad to return to earth. If I could have landed on Mars, I certainly could have landed safely on earth. But there was another reason why I should have been glad to have returned to earth, a reason that loomed, large and terrible, ahead—the sun. We were heading straight for the sun now. Once in its grip of that mighty power, nothing could affect our destiny; we were doomed. For three months I must await the inevitable end, before plunging into that fiery furnace. Furnace is an inadequate word by which to suggest the sun's heat, which is reputedly from thirty to sixty million degrees at the centre, a fact which should not have concerned me greatly, since I did not anticipate reaching the centre.

The days dragged on, or, I should say, the long night—there were no days, other than the record that I kept of the passing hours. I read a great deal. I made no entries in the log. Why write something that was presently to be plunged into the sun and consumed? I experimented in the galley, attempting fancy cooking. I ate a great deal; it helped to pass the time away, and I enjoyed my meals.

On the thirtieth day I was scanning space ahead when I saw a gorgeous, shimmering crescent far to the right of our course; but I must confess that I was not greatly interested in sights of any sort. In sixty days I should be in the sun. Long before that, however, the increasing heat would have destroyed me. The end was approaching rapidly.

The psychological effects of an experience such as that through which I had been passing must be considerable, and even though they could be neither weighed nor measured, I was yet conscious of changes that had taken place in me because of them. For thirty days I had been racing alone through space toward absolute annihilation, toward an end that would probably not leave a single nucleus of the atoms that compose me an electron to carry on with. I had experienced the ultimate in solitude, and the result had been to deaden my sensibilities—doubtless a wire provision of nature.

Even the realization that the splendid crescent, looming enormously off the starboard bow of the torpedo, was Venus, failed to excite me greatly. What if I were to approach Venus more closely than any other human being of all time? It meant nothing. Were I to see God, Himself, even that would mean nothing. It became apparent that the value of what we see is measurable only by the size of our prospective audience. Whatever I saw, who might never have an audience, was without value.

Nevertheless, more to pass away the time than because I was particularly interested in the subject, I began to make some rough calculations. These indicated that I was about 865,000 miles from the orbit of Venus and that I should cross it in about twenty-four hours. I could not, however, compute my present distance from the planet accurately. I only knew that it appeared very close. When I say close, I mean relatively. The earth was some 25,000,000 miles away, the sun about 68,000,000; so that an object as large as Venus, at a distance of 1,000,000 or 2,000,000 miles, appeared close.

As Venus travels in her orbit at the rate of nearly twenty-two miles per second, or over 1,600,000 mile in a terrestrial day, it appeared evident to me that she would cross my path some time within the next twenty-four hours.

It occured to me that, passing closely, as was unavoidable, she might deflect the course of the torpedo and save me from the sun; but I knew this to be a vain hope. Undoubtedly, the path of the torpedo would be bent, but the sun would not relinquish his prey. With these thoughts, my apathy returned, and I lost interest in Venus.

Selecting a book, I lay down on my bed to read. The interior of the cabin was brightly illuminated. I am extravagant with electricity. I have the means of generating it for eleven more months; but I shall not need it after a few weeks, so why should I be parsimonious?

I read for a few hours, but as reading in bed always makes me sleepy, I eventually succumbed. When I awoke, I lay for a few minutes in luxurious ease. I might be racing toward extinction at the rate of 36,000 miles an hour, but I, myself, was unhurried. I recalled the beautiful spectacle that Venus had presented when I had last observed her and decided to have another look at her. Stretching languorously, I arose and stepped to one of the starboard portholes.

The picture framed by the casing of that circular opening was gorgeous beyond description. Apparently less than half as far away as before, and twice as large, loomed the mass of Venus outlined by an aureole of light where the sun, behind her, illuminated her cloudy envelope and lighted to burning brilliance a thin crescent along the edge nearest me.

I looked at my watch. Twelve hours had passed since I first discovered the planet, and now, at last, I became excited. Venus was apparently half as far away as it had been twelve hours ago, and I knew that the torpedo had covered half the distance that had separated us from her orbit at that time. A collision was possible, it even seemed within the range of probability that I should be dashed to the surface of this inhospitable, lifeless world.

Well, what of it? Am I not already doomed? What difference can it make to me if the end comes a few weeks sooner than I had anticipated? Yet I was excited. I cannot say that I felt fear. I have no fear of death—that left when my mother died; but now that the great adventure loomed so close I was overwhelmed by contemplation of it and the great wonder that it induced. What would follow?

The long hours dragged on. It seemed incredible to me, accustomed though I am to thinking in units of terrific speed, that the torpedo and Venus were racing toward the same point in her orbit at such inconceivable velocities, the one at the rate of 36,000 miles an hour, the other at over 37,000.

It was now becoming difficult to view the planet through the side port, as she moved steadily closer and closer to our path. I went to the periscope—she was gliding majestically within its range. I knew that at the moment the torpedo was less than 36,000 miles, less than an hour, from the path of the planet's orbit, and there could be no doubt now but that she had already seized us in her grasp. We were destined to make a clean hit. Even under the circumstance I could not restrain a smile at the thought of the marksmanship that this fact revealed. I had aimed at Mars and was about to hit Venus, unquestionably the all-time cosmic record for poor shots.

50 Years of Service

In 1885 James Maynard, opened his first retail shoe store. Located on Douglas Street, opposite the City Hall, this pioneer establishment served the public for thirteen years. Due to increased business Mr. Maynard found it necessary to move to the Odd Fellows' Block, and carried on a successful business until 1911. During this year another move was made, to the present location where Maynard's Shoe Store now stands. Today, as in the past, Maynard's policy of giving outstanding value and service to the Victoria public has earned for them a leading and enviable position.

Truck Drivers Organize Here

Union Group Formed; B.C. Wage Order Under Fire

Formation of a Victoria Truck Drivers' and Helpers' Union was completed at a meeting in the Trades and Labor Hall yesterday evening.

The union, it was stated, would be affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The following officers were named: Malcolm McCraig, president; D. Williams, vice-president; Ernest Belton, recording secretary; Fred G. Eaton, secretary-treasurer; S. Smith, conductor; Mr. Brown, warden, and Jack Drever, L. Healey and J. Cator, trustees.

Criticism of the order made by the B.C. Board of Industrial Relations covering hours of work and minimum wage regulations for the transportation industry was voiced.

It was decided to send a protest to Premier Pattullo, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, and all British Columbia labor bodies.

Speakers claimed that instead of getting better pay and shorter hours, their position was worse than it had ever been as a result of the board's order.

C.C.F. TO HOLD SUMMER CAMP

Educational and Recreational Programme Planned For Gathering

A summer school under the auspices of the C.C.F. will be held at Camp Buckthorn, Fisherman's Cove, West Vancouver, from Sunday, August 18, to Saturday, August 31.

The camp will be of an educational and recreational nature, and prominent speakers of the C.C.F. organization will address the evening meetings, which will be open to the public.

During the morning hours there will be discussion and study groups in progress, while in the afternoon facilities will be available for boating, hiking, badminton and swimming. It is also intended to hold a sports day.

The camp is within an hour's drive of the West Vancouver ferry. It is hoped to arrange transportation direct from Vancouver by boat.

Miss Mildred Osterhout has been appointed manager. Intending visitors can obtain full information at C.C.F. headquarters in Vancouver and Victoria.

AUTHORIZE WORK ON CITY STREETS

Repairs to twenty-five city streets, covering a total area of 98,000 square yards, were authorized by the City Council yesterday evening on recommendation from the executive of the public works committee.

The repairs will consist of filling in holes in pavement and will be scattered in various sections of the city.

The work will cost about $5,100, the contract being let to Carter, Hall and Aldinger Company Limited. About 70,000 square yards will be treated at 6.8 cents a foot.

BILL RUSHED BY COMMONS

Ottawa, July 26.—Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of Pensions, got a bill through all three readings in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon without its even being printed. It was a money bill too requiring preliminary notice and the passage of a resolution. All these formalities were rushed through in a few minutes as opposition members pressed for speed.

The bill is an amendment to the Pension Act to extend for one year the provision under which Mr. Justice Fawcett G. Taylor of the Supreme Court of Manitoba operates as acting chairman of the Canadian pensions commission.

Notice of the resolution had been placed on the order paper for introduction to-day.

Pastor's Pursuit Of Actor Ends

Rev. S. Williams of Ohio Fails to Make Clark Gable Into Evangelist

Hollywood, Cal., June 26.—Rev. Samuel Williams gave up trying to make an evangelist out of Clark Gable to-day and went home. But behind him the youthful Bloomingdale, Ohio, Methodist minister left a 10,000-word indictment of motion pictures as "tools of the devil."

Mr. Williams spent three weeks in a fruitless effort to get in touch with Gable, now on location with his movie company on Santa Catalina Island. Finally the crusading Ohioan delivered the letter to the actor's negro maid.

The letter bristled with such statements as this:

"You have been a tool of the devil, an idol used by the devil, one of the devil's pantheon of idols. Glorifying of sin has broken down barriers and led thousands of youths into forbidden paths. I dare say that screen idols grease the sliding board into perdition."

BRIDGE BILL

Ottawa, June 26 (Canadian Press)—In less than five minutes the House of Commons yesterday gave two readings, considered clause by clause in committee stage and passed a bill clearing up a legal technicality regarding the Second Narrows bridge at Vancouver. It declared the bridge "a lawful work and shall not be deemed or held to be an interference with navigation."

Annuity When Minister Retires

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—Inclusion in the supplementary estimates of provision for an annuity of $2,500 for Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian Minister to France, on his retirement, has given rise to fresh surmise as to his replacement. Inquiries here, however failed to reveal any indication Mr. Roy would be replaced in the immediate future.

NEW AREA FOR DOUKHOBORS

Negotiations For Move From Canada to Paraguay Move Slowly

Associated Press

Washington, June 26.—Preliminary arrangements for transplanting Canada's Doukhobors to the fertile wilderness of the Paraguayan Chaco are proceeding slowly, according to Dr. Enrique Bordenave, Parguayan minister to the United States, but several years may elapse before the migration can be started.

A representative of the Russian sect, whose members say they desire to escape what they call religious persecution in Canada, has been in frequent communication witth the legation here. On Monday he told the envoy the plan now is to move 16,000 Doukhobors, several thousand more than the original estimate, to Paraguay.

TAX EXEMPTION

The Paraguayan government has extended the Doukhobors a cordial invitation to settle in the Chaco, and guaranteed them religious freedom, complete exemption from military service and exemption from taxes for ten years.

Dr. Bordenave said perfection of the arrangements necessarily are slow, because the entire project must be explained in detail to each of the several communities in Canada, and the consent of all secured. Many difficulties are in the way, and the central group engaged in negotiations has only limited power to act.

The Doukhobors, said to have arrived in Canada penniless, now claim aggregate cash assets of more than $12,000,000.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

JELLY MAKING IS DELIGHTFUL SUMMER TASK

By MARY E. DAGUE

If some day all housekeeping tasks are done by robots, there are a few I want to save out because they are good for my soul and fun, anyway. For instance, I get some of my worst problems worked out when I make jelly. There's a kind of pleasantness about it—the kitchen smells so good and fruity, the colors are so pretty and there's a real sense of achievement about producing a perfect jelly.

Currants are grand for jelly. Then come Astrakan apples, and later in the season crab-apples.

PLAIN CURRANT JELLY

Wash currants and pick over, pulling them from the main stem. Put just enough water into a smooth wide preserving kettle to prevent sticking before the juice begins to flow from the fruit. Add currants, cover kettle and bring quickly to the boiling point. Reduce heat and crush with a wooden potato masher. Simmer until currants look white. Turn into a jelly bag and let juice drip through. Do not squeeze for this first extraction of juice. Measure juice. For each cup of juice use three-fourths cup granulated sugar. Heat sugar in a warm oven. Put juice into a wide saucepan and bring quickly to the boiling point. Boil five minutes and sift in sugar. Do not let the boiling stop while adding sugar. Boil rapidly until the syrup "sheets" from the spoon. If a very little water was used to cook the fruit, it will take a very few minutes to cook the jelly. Remove from the fire, skim if necessary and pour into hot sterilized glasses. Cover with a thin layer of paraffin. When cold cover with a second layer of paraffin.

FOUR-FRUIT JELLY

This is a delicious combination of fruits that was much prized by our grandmothers. I believe it shared honors with their famous "rose geranium" jelly.

One quart strawberries, 1 quart red raspberries, 1 quart currants, 1 quart cherries measured after stoning, sugar.

Wash and hull berries. Save juice from cherries that escapes while stoning. Pick currants from stems and wash. Wash and pick over raspberries. Combine fruit, add cherry juice and bring to the boiling point. Simmer until currants look white. Turn into jelly bag and let drip. Press out as much juice as possible. Measure juice and use three cups sugar to four cups juice. Bring juice to the boiling point and add sugar. Boil rapidly until syrup sheets from spoon. Since no water was used in cooking the fruit it will take a very short time to cook the jelly. Remove from fire, skim and turn into sterilized jelly glasses. Cover with paraffin as in preceding recipe.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Apricots, cereal cooked with dates, cream, crisp toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Iced tomato bouillon, crisp crackers, toasted almond rarebit, baking powder biscuits, four fruit jelly, milk tea.

Dinner: Sweetbreads and bacon en brochette, creamed noodles, cucumber jelly salad, pineapple and date pudding, milk, coffee.

THREE KILLED IN ONTARIO MINE

Canadian Press

Copper Cliff, Ont., June 26.—Caught in a fall of rock in No. 22 stope at the 2,900-foot level of the Frood mine of the International Nickel Company of Canada, three miners were killed early to-day.

Those who lost their lives were:

Patrick Powers, thirty-two, single, East Templeton, Que.

Ony Honornay, thiry-two, married, Sudbury.

Izydor Slomka, thirty-two, married, Sudbury.

A crew of eight was working in the stope when there was a low rumble and the fall engulfed the three. The other five raced for safety and were not injured.

Coroner J. S. McKessock announced an inquest would be held.

Check on Fascist Moves in France

Paris, June 26.—Premier Pierre Laval yesterday declared war on pro-Fascist tendencies in France, which in the last several days have evoked fear among Leftist Deputies with a show of strength in two secret mass meetings at Chartres and Montreuil.

M. Laval, assured a protesting delegation of Leftists leaders the extraordinary powers voted to him by Parliament for financial relief would also permit him to take strong action against a Fascist movement.

Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, was delegated by the City Council to attend the anti-tuberculosis conference in Vancouver on July 8, 9 and 10, at the council meeting yesterday evening.

AFTER BOUTS IN UNITED STATES

London, June 26. — Both Walter Neusel, German heavyweight boxer, and Jack Petersen, British and Empire champion, were seeking engagements in the United States to-day.

Neusel, who defeated Petersen yesterday evening, cabled a challenge to Jimmy Braddock, who took the world's heavyweight title from Max Baer in New York a fortnight ago.

Petersen sought a meeting with Bob Olin, world light-heavyweight champion, of Brooklyn.

KENT GAINS IN CRICKET LIST

Canadian Press

London, June 26. — County cricket championship games produced a shake-up among the leaders yesterday. Derbyshire, although idle, maintained top honors, but Kent passed Warwickshire and Yorkshire to take the runner-up position.

Kent piled up an eight wickets' margin over Somerset, while Northamptonshire proved a thorn in Warwickshire's side, winning on the first innings. Surrey won by eight wickets from Worcestershire. Yorkshire met the touring South Africans at Sheffield and lost by 128 runs. Essex added valuable points with a ten wickets' win over Lancashire, the champion county, and Leicestershire squeezed out a forty-seven-run margin from Hampshire.

In games concluded yesterday Gloucestershire won by an innings and five runs from Glamorgan, and Nottinghamshire took Sussex's measure by an innings and sixty-four runs.

Scores of games concluded to-day: Somerset 84 and 281; Kent 238 and 128 for two wickets, at Taunton.

Warwickshire 206 and 144 runs for three wickets; Northamptonshire 289, at Northampton.

Surrey 433 and 75 runs for two wickets; Worcestershire 157 and 350, at the Oval.

Lancashire 263 and 83; Essex 316 and 31 for no wickets, at Chelmsford.

Leicestershire 157 and 161; Hampshire 84 and 187, at Leicester.

South Africans 263 and 301 runs for seven wickets, declared; Yorkshire 201 and 235.

Victory Sets Louis Up As One of Greatest Negro Fighters

THE SPORTS MIRROR

ONE OF THOSE bright features which occasionally shine in the traditional gloom of amateur sports finance came to light this week in the form of a small donation from the Pacific Swimming Club to a special Olympic trials fund for contests next year.

The Pacific outfit forwarded to Frank Hyslop, president of the Vancouver Island Swimming League, a cheque for five dollars as the nucleus of a sum to send local swimmers to the national trials for the next Olympiad. Though a modest sum, the gesture comes as a splendid incentive to other amateur sporting circles who hope to have representation at next year's tests.

While by no means wealthy, the Pacific Club evidently is willing to give of its slender resources to encourage local performers along the road to stardom. Plans are being considered for a dance and for other functions at which money might be raised to swell the fund.

The action flavors of the unselfishness of local track and field performers recently. With no funds available for trips this year, some of the boys, including the best in the Y.M.C.A. club, heaved coal in their spare time at laborers' pay to build up a small balance.

When you grow too old for vigorous sports, try croquet. There is room for deftness of touch, science, technique and that smoothness of performance that comes of constant practice in the game.

And if you are inclined to scoff and still desire more vigorous action, remember it takes a big lawn for a croquet layout and pushing a mower on a warm day, to make the green suitable for the accurate play you hope to achieve, is strenuous enough work for any average man.

It's very much of a game, this pastime so readily associated with those long, hoopskirt pictures in the old family album. If you're enthusiastic, you can work up quite a lather when a villainous opponent roquets you for a trip across the greensward, just when you've lined up your ball for a trip through the hoops. And, if excitable tempers get too frayed, the mallet you use can be a most effective way of settling an argument most conclusively.

A large piece of sandy ground representing roughly 540,000 square yards, situated about nine miles outside Berlin is rapidly undergoing a complete transformation to become an Olympic village, where competitors at next year's Olympic games will be accommodated.

About 700 trees have been shifted, a lake has been made, meadows laid out and 150 bungalows, each to house twenty-six athletes are being erected. Each bungalow will bear the name of a German town.

* * *

A large building will contain forty-eight kitchens, where the varying favorite dishes of each nation will be prepared.

There will be a big hall where the cinema and theatre performances will be given, and twenty-eight smaller halls will afford ample opportunity for indoor gymnastics.

* * *

Finally, there will be a running track of the same dimensions as that in the stadium where the games will take place, and a covered and open-air swimming pool.

* * *

Each team will be attended by a Reichswehr officer who speaks their language and he will be responsible for the comfort of his guests.

A corps of 350 young athletes, who speak many languages, will also assist in entertaining the visitors from overseas.

The women athletes participating in the Olympic Games will live near the stadium.

A recommendation that a Canadian women's ice hockey team should visit England and other parts of Europe next autumn was passed at the annual meeting of Canada's women's amateur hockey association.

Hundreds of Canadian women play ice hockey—and play it very well. It is believed that international competition will popularize the game among women in other parts of the world.

On being asked clearly to define its attitude regarding the appearance of amateur golfers in exhibition matches for which admission is charged, the United States golf association replied through its amateur status and conduct committee as follows:

"An amateur golfer may take part in an exhibition match, for which admission is charged, provided that net proceeds go to an organized charity. Professionals appearing in such a match may be paid appropriate amounts for their services, and the club may be reimbursed only to the extent of its actual expenses. The expenses of the club must be certified by an officer of the club."

THISTLES' WORKOUT

Saanich Thistles football team will hold a workout this evening, starting at 6.30 o'clock on the Heywood Avenue pitch.

Bomber Smashes Out One-sided Win Over Primo

Carnera Bleeding, Tottering Mass in Sixth as Referee Stops Slaughter

New Star Slated To Meet Max Baer

Associated Press

New York, June 26—The ringing echoes of the fistic dynamite set off by Joe Louis in the midst of the greatest fight crowd in five years reverberated to-day with the conviction that the "Brown Bomber" is well on the road to becoming one of the greatest heavyweight punchers his race has produced.

The twenty-one-year-old Detroit negro, who signalized his metropolitan debut by scoring a spectacular six-round knockout victory over giant Primo Carnera yesterday evening in the Yankee Stadium, unquestionably stamped himself the biggest drawing card pugilism has developed since the boom days of Jack Dempsey's prime.

In a setting reminiscent of the game's palmiest days, with a crowd of 60,000 yelling with old-time lustiness for the "kill," Louis slugged the 260-pound Italian into a helpless, tottering mass and justified the gaudiest predictions of his backers.

Carnera was knocked down three time for short counts—four, four and three seconds—before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the fight with only twenty-eight seconds of the sixth round left.

FINISH FOR PRIMO

The defenceless giant was bleeding from the mouth and was thoroughly shell-shocked at the end of a one-sided match. It undoubtedly marked the end of Primo's career as a factor in the heavyweight picture.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, one-time associate of Tex Rickard, promptly announced Louis will be matched for fifteen rounds with Max Baer, fromer heavyweight champion, in New York this fall.

Louis told Jacobs he would be willing to fight once a month. The promoter said he would seek a match in late July or early August.

"We may try to match Louis with Jack Doyle, the Irish heavyweight who made his New York debut with a knockout this week," said Jacobs.

The fight world acclaimed the sensational negro as the latest successor to such dusky giants as Peter Jackson, Sam Langford and Jack Johnson, only negro to hold the world heavyweight title and a witness to the triumph of the "chocolate clouter" yesterday evening.

BRADDOCK WATCHES

James J. Braddock, newly-crowned king of the heavies, also was a spectator. It remains to be seen whether the "Brown Bomber" fights his way to the position of logical contender by the time Braddock is willing to consider title defence, sometime next year.

"Braddock will not draw the color line," said Joe Gould, the champion's manager, "but it's too early to talk about a championship match with Louis or any other contender. Jimmy will be ready to tackle the best man they can produce."

Fight critics were unanimous in ranking Louis as the hardest hitter since Dempsey. They compared him to Gene Tunney from the standpoint of his boxing skill, footwork and ability to seize openings. Carnera cleared up one obvious point by remarking with emphasis that Louis hits "much, much harder" than Baer.

Baer floored Carnera ten times against three knockdowns for Louis, but the Italian giant rallied sufficiently a year ago to last eleven rounds with the Californian. There was never any doubt about the outcome, in either fight, but Louis performed a much more workmanlike and effective job.

LOUIS MASTER ALL WAY

Louis established mastery in the first round with a few short but staggering blows, one of which opened a gash in Primo's mouth.

The negro did not land a knockdown in this or the succeeding four rounds. He stalked the Italian, boxing warily for openings, shifting his attack from head to body, but always had command.

The climax came swiftly in the sixth. Louis floored Carnera with a terrific left hook for the first time. Primo, although dazed, pulled himself erect at the count of four, only to be met by another two-fisted blast. He stumbled weirdly, started to get up but lost his balance and fell to one side. Again he was up after four seconds, too far gone to realize the advantage of taking a longer count.

Helpless and glassy-eyed, the giant wobbled to one side of the ring, where a terrific right-hand smash sent him spinning to the canvas again.

This time he regained his feet after only three seconds. Blood dripped from his mouth, his eyes

Harlem Happy As Louis Wins

Darktown Strutters Burst Forth in Joy At Negro's Triumph Over Carnera

Associated Press

New York, June 26.—Harlem, crooning hallelujahs for Joe Louis, at dawn to-day was a happy picnic ground of fried chicken and "two-bit" gin.

Louis's victory over Primo Carnera started a celebration that danced past sun-up under watchful eyes of a blue coated policeman at every corner of Lennox Avenue.

"They sho' goin' to town, all right," Newt said as he greeted Harlemites and Louis's Detroit friends at his breakfast dance emporium—one of many such places.

The negro maids, chauffeurs, laundresses, chorus girls, bellhops and other inhabitants of the 125th Street neighborhood must have felt confident from the start of the fight at Yankee Stadium.

Jack Johnson was there, dazzling in his chocolate-hued sport jacket and wide-brimmed Panama hat. He was greeted with a clack-clack of palms that sounded like the rhythmic staccato of bones at a Saturday night social.

BILL ROBINSON THERE

Coming all the way from Hollywood studios, Bill Robinson, unofficial mayor of Harlem, keeper of Lennox Avenue's Good Luck Tree, and king of dancers, was the first man to leap into the ring after the fight and shake Louis's hand.

Scarcely was the hand of the "brown bomber" lifted in victory, when the Harlem citizens, laughing and shouting, began flowing toward the breakfast dances, night clubs and other rendezvous where gather neighbors for barbecue, music and a go at the Lindy hop.

True, there was a tolerant policeman at every corner and many in the middle of the block, but Harlem was too gay for trouble.

BAER'S HAND ALIBI MELTS

Physician Declares Fists of Ex-champion Same After Fight as Before

Associated Press

New York, June 26.—Max Baer appeared before the New York State Athletic Commission yesterday and heard Dr. William H. Walker, commission physician, declare the condition of Baer's hands did not "constitute an alibi" for his poor showing against Jimmy Braddock in their recent fifteen-round battle for the world's heavyweight championship.

After Baer had lost the fight—and his title—to Braddock, there came an announcement from his camp that he had badly hurt both hands during the early rounds. But Dr. Walker thought otherwise.

HANDS SAME

"Baer's hands are in exactly the same shape now as when I examined him before the fight," the physician said. "An old dislocation in the left hand is still there, and will be there until removed by surgery."

After hearing Dr. Walker explain the situation, the commission decided that Baer will not be allowed to fight in this state again until his hands have been examined thoroughly.

PAYNES STAR IN COWICHAN DEFEAT

The two Payne brothers were quite a factor in the victory of Frank Tyrell's eleven over the Cowichan Cricket Club in a friendly match at Duncan. The score was 166 to 65.

George Payne knocked up 73 not out and Jack Payne bagged four wickets for 16 runs. Adie, another young player, scored 37 for the Victoria team.

Batting first, Cowichan were dismissed pretty cheaply for 65, Attwell and Pillar also turning in good bowling performances for Tyrell's eleven. Mowbray (19) and Mainguy (14) were the only Cowichan batsmen to reach double figures.

MAY PURCHASE BOSTON BRAVES

Associated Press

Boston, June 26.—Louis J. O'Malley, son of Charles J. O'Malley, president of O'Malley Associates, Boston advertising firm, yesterday evening said members of the firm would meet to-morrow with Ford Frick, president of the Nataional League, to discuss the purchase of the Boston Braves.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

In the case of Zerah Colburn's childhood mathematical wizardry, scientists were particularly interested, thinking that perhaps some heretofore undiscovered law of numbers was being used by the child in performing his amazing mental feats. He worked problems so fast that it seemed impossible he was using ordinary methods—and in some of the problems he solved no known rule could be followed.

Zerah Colburn was self-taught, and if he did follow some mysterious system in his calculations he was unable as a child to explain it. He quickly multiplied and divided, raised numbers to various powers, extracted square and cube roots, and gave factors of numbers almost as quickly as they were stated. Perhaps the most amazing thing that Zerah Colburn was able to do was determine in a few seconds whether a number was prime or not—that is, whether it could be divided by any other number except unity.

On one occasion, while he was being questioned by French mathematicians, they tried to catch him in an error by asking him to give the factors of a 9-digit number—a number which they thought was a prime number having no factors. Young Colburn quickly gave the answer, proving that the learned mathematicians were wrong. No way is known, except by trial and error, to determine when a number is prime.

Strange as it seems, the older Colburn became, the less agile his mind became—and by the time he reached manhood he was unable to perform any of his childhood feats.

To-morrow: Pardon by Poetry.

Heavy Schedule For Ball Club

Sons of Canada to Meet Anacortes Saturday, Home Gas Monday, and House of David in Feature Next Wednesday

After a slump which saw them drop two games to Everett last Saturday, Victoria's Sons of Canada prepared to-day for a strenuous week of ball against three outside teams in the next seven days.

The highlight of the quintuplet bill will be the exhibition against the House of David, colorful bearded boys at the Athletic Park on Wednesday evening next.

The local club will bring in two outside pitchers for the battle, and will have the team at full strength with an imported short stop.

This Saturday the boys will tackle the Anacortes crew in a twin bill, the afternoon game starting at 2.30 o'clock and the night piece following at 6 o'clock.

On Monday, to accommodate the soccer interests, the Sons have listed their games against the Home Gas squad, Vancouver, for 10 o'clock in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

They will start against the House of David on Wednesday at 6 o'clock.

Following Saturday's mediocre exhibitions, the local squad took a hot pep talk from manager Kim Campbell to heart, and should be vastly improved in their next few games.

Loaded with color as well as ball playing ability, the Davids should give Victoria fans one of the treats of the season when they arrive on Wednesday. Barnstorming as they do through the United States and one or two Canadian points, the team representing the Benton Harbor cult sprinkles its ball playing with enough clowing to make the game interesting to those who do not follow it closely. One of the biggest turnouts of the year is expected for the game.

The Victoria bond dealers annual golf tournament will be staged Friday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, at the Victoria Golf Club. Dealers wishing to enter are requested to communicate with H. F. Hepburn by telephoning G 4651.

HITS HARDER THAN MAXIE

Associated Press

New York, June 26.—Here's what the fighters had to say after Joe Louis, "Detroit bomber" had knocked out Primo Carnera in six rounds at the Yankee Stadium yesterday evening:

Carnera: "He hits harder than Maxie Baer. He's the hardest hitter I ever met. He's a good boy and some day he may be champion.

Louis: "Carnera didn't hurt me. His left bothered me some, but not much. I told my managers after the fourth round if I didn't finish him in the fifth, I would in the sixth. I did."

MICHIGAN IN GOLF SWEEP

Washington, June 26.—The University of Michigan romped off with most of the prizes in the National intercollegiate golf tournament here yesterday, easily winning the team championship while two of its sharpshooters tied with a southerner for individual medal honors.

The Wolverines, with a four-man total of 606, were hardly challenged as they drove to their second successive team championship. In addition Charles Kocsis and Woodrow Malloy of Michigan, were deadlocked with Lewis Johnson Jr., of Charleston, S.C., College, for individual low score during the day, thirty-six-hole qualifying test with cards of 148, four strokes above the congressional course's par for the route.

TENNIS HALTED

Evanston, Ill., June 26 (Associated Press).—The surviving thirty-two players in the National intercollegiate singles tennis championship tournament were forced to forego action yesterday when rain soaked the clay courts at Northwestern University.

DRAW MADE FOR CREWS

California and Washington Favored in Position For Sprint Heats

Associated Press

Long Beach, Calif., June 26.—Two Pacific Coast crews, California and Washington, were favored yesterday in the drawing for lanes for the second national intercollegiate sprint championships here Friday and Saturday.

In the elimination heats Friday, California will have the No. 4 lane in the first race. This is the lane sheltered by the south shore. Syracuse will be in the second lane and Wisconsin in the third in this heat.

In the second heat, U.C.L.A. drew the second lane, with Pennsylvania in the third and Washington in the fourth.

The final race on Saturday, which pits the first two crews in each preliminary heat, is tentatively scheduled to start at 4.15 p.m., Pacific Standard Time, but may be moved forward a half hour to accommodate a nation-wide radio broadcast.

WILL PLAY AT MOUNT TOLMIE

Officials in charge of the intercity cricket game between Victoria and Vancouver all-stars scheduled for Monday have altered their grounds from Macdonald Park to University School grounds, owing to the inability of followers of the game to drive cars into the park. Victoria will be defending its intercity laurels. Last year the two-game home and home series was drawn, while the local team won in 1933.

Would Duel With Basque

Jean Borotra Challenged By French Tennis Writer

Associated Press

Paris, June 26.—A challenge to clash on the field of honor was flung to-day at Jean Borotra, "Bounding Basque" of French tennis fame.

Didier Poulain, sports writer for the newspaper Auto, issued the call to arms to Paris's favorite tennis player just as the capital's favorite politician, Jean Chiappe, prepared peaceful settlement of another projected duel.

The proposed encounter between Chiappe, president of the Paris Municipal Council, and his predecessor, Pierre Godin, was expected to be called off because of "insufficient grounds," representative for one of them indicated.

The deft against Borotra rose almost simultaneously with the apparent settlement of the previous dispute.

Poulain, who has been engaging in a war of words with Borotra in Paris newspapers, accused the tennis star of insulting him in the columns of the writer's own newspaper.

Poulain was also reported to have accused Borotra of "letting down France" by refusing to play singles in the Davis Cup competition, although he is now playing singles at Wimbledon.

Poulain yesterday challenged Borotra by sending his seconds to the star at Wimbledon.

BOROTRA SAYS NOTHING

London, June 26 (Associated Press)—Jean Borotra, French tennis star, said to-day that pending receipt of his challenge to a duel from Didier Poulain, Paris sports writer, "it is wiser to say nothing."

Borotra asserted he first heard of the challenge yesterday at Wimbledon, where he is playing in the all-England championships, "from a friend who heard it from somebody else."

Neusel Beats Jack Peterson

British and Empire Titlist Unable to Continue Against German Ace

Canadian Press

London, June 26. — Walter Neusel, Germany's heavyweight hope, yesterday evening defeated Jack Peterson, British and Empire titlist, in a furious battle that ended when Peterson, exhausted, refused to continue after the tenth round. They were scheduled to go fifteen rounds.

Both men fought aggressively and each appeared in turn several times to be on the verge of scoring a knockout.

Neusel weighed 197 pounds, Peterson 177.

Eddie Wenstob of Viking, Alta., was disqualified when he belted Eddie Phillips, British light heavyweight champion, after the bell had ended the ninth round of their ten-round bout.

Phillips, groggy from the blow, said he would have continued had the referee permitted. Wenstob, who had been doing well up to that point, wept when the referee announced his disqualification.

Seattle, June 26.—Leonard Bennett, Seattle welterweight, and Cecil Payne of Louisville, Ky., battled to a draw in the eight-round main event of a boxing card here yesterday evening, although some of the customers thought Payne had an edge. Bennett weighed 142 pounds and Payne 140.

SAMMY McLARNIN LOSES

Al Rossi, Newark, N.J., middleweight, decisioned Sammy McLarnin, Vancouver, B.C., younger brother of the former welter champion, in a close eight-round semi-final. The Canadian was coming strong in the closing rounds, and many of the customers thought the youngster had earned an even break.

Results of other bouts reported by the Associated Press follow:

Buddy Baer, 239, Livermore, Calif., knocked out Frank Motanski, 205, Utica, N.Y., (1).

Miami Beach, Fla.—Mickey Dugan, 176, Cleveland, outpointed Benny O'Deel, 184½, Syracuse, N.Y., (10).

Jimmie Todd Scores One-sided Golf Victory, While Marjorie Todd Beats Portland Miss Handily

Seattle Golf Club, Seattle, June 26.—After picking off champion Ken Storey of Spokane in the first round of firing yesterday, seven visiting sharpshooters aimed their sniping at Seattle's remaining nine-man squad to-day with a hope that one of their members will be successful in carrying off the Pacific Northwest amateur golf crown.

Don Moe of Portland, former Walker Cup star and medalist in the qualifying round, was the most feared competitor as he led the visiting clan into the second battle of match play. He easily eliminated one of Seattle's young experts yesterday, defeating Tarry Umbrasetti, 6 and 5.

The other out-of-towners surviving the first rounds were Eddie Hogan, Portland, former titlist; H. Chandler Egan, Medford, Ore., twice national champion and winner of many tournaments; Ernie Piper, San Jose, quarter-finalist in the national amateur last year; Chuck Hunter, Tacoma; Dr. Cliff Baker, Vancouver, Wash., and Jimmy Todd, booming southpaw of Victoria, B.C. Todd eliminated Bill Duncan, Seattle, 14 and 12.

Hogan was responsible for forcing Storey to vacate his throne, trouncing the 130-pounder, 6 and 5.

Seattle's three mainstays left in the running were Scotty Campbell, twice Canadian amateur champion, Johnny Shields, state titlist, and Harry Givan.

The thirty-six-hole matches to-day included Moe vs. Barker; Givan vs. Lee Stell, Seattle; Todd vs. Clyde Finlay, Seattle; Hogan vs. Shields; Campbell vs. Bob Gourlay, Seattle; Egan vs. Pieper, and Hunter vs. Dick Haskell, Seattle.

In the women's division the visiting squad also was represented by seven survivors, including Mrs. L. J. Tescher, Berkeley, northern California champion; Miss Marian McDougall, Portland, defending titlist; Miss Florence Sellars and Patsy McKenna, Portland; Miss Iva Liston, San Jose; Miss Barbara Thompson, Palo Alto, and Marjorie Todd, Victoria.

Miss Todd defeated Miss Eleanor Brodie of Portland 8 and 6 in the first round yesterday.

Mrs. Vera Hutchings Ford, Seattle, scored the most thrilling victory of the first round matches at the Broadmoor golf course when she came from behind to dormie two to nose out Miss Elizabeth Abbott, Los Angeles, Southern California champion, at the nineteenth hole.

Cotton Takes One-stroke Lead In To-day's British Open Play

Shoots Fine Golf To Head Mac Smith And Alfred Perry

Defending Champ Continues Sub-par Play to Come Near Record

JOE KIRKWOOD QUITS TOURNEY

Canadian Press-Associated Press

Muirfield, Scotland, June 26.—As the hunt for the British open golf title began in real earnest to-day over the Muirfield layout, Henry Cotton, the defending champion, held a one-stroke advantage over Macdonald Smith and Alfred Perry.

Cotton continued the display of sub-par golf he showed in the qualifying rounds, carding a 68. Macdonald Smith, the forty-five-year-old Scot from Glendale, Calif., turned in a 69. Par for Muirfield is 72.

The Carnoustie-born Smith was out in par 36 and back in 33. Cotton went out in 33 and returned in 35.

Alfred Perry, a thirty-year-old southpaw professional who represented England in the 1933 international team matches, came up with a sub-par 69 to share second place with the veteran Smith. Perry was out in 35 and came back in 34.

Eric McRuvie, member of the last two British Walker Cup teams, set an amateur record for the course with a sparkling 70. Two others also carded 70's—Ernest Kenyon, Irish amateur champion in 1931 and 1933, and veteran Alf Padgham.

INVADING FAVORITES

Co-favorite with Smith among the invaders, Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., carded a 72. Joe Kirkwood of Chicago, trick-shot artist, blew up on the incoming nine and quit in disgust He was 43 at the turn. Lawson Little of San Francisco needed 75.

Cotton's 68, fashioned from nines of 33 and 35, tied Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen for the second lowest score ever made in the first round of the championship. Hagen had first rounds of 68 in 1926 and 1933, and Jones turned the trick in 1927. The all-time first-round low was turned in by Cotton a year ago when he shot Royal St. George's in 67.

P. M. Branch, British pro, carded nines of 36 and 35 for 71—one under par.

P. J. Mahon of Ireland toured the layout at 71, and Eric Green, Bert Gadd and the formidable Percy Allias came in with 72's.

PLAY IN DRIZZLE

The same drizzling rain that prevailed yesterday settled down over the course to-day as a field of 109 competitors started the seventy-second-hole play.

An undaunted gallery of 500 trailed Henry Cotton, favorite and defender of the title as he went out with the early starters. Single rounds to-day and to-morrow and the thirty-six-hole final Friday were scheduled for the survivors of the qualifying rounds.

Cotton looked unbeatable, playing his shots like an automaton. On the third hole he put his second shot twenty feet from the pin and sank the putt for a birdie.

On the short fourth his tee shot caught a bunker, but he played out a foot from the cup. On the long fifth he put his second iron ten feet from the cup, barely missing the putt and an eagle three.

MAGNIFICENT GOLF

Another magnificent iron shot almost hit the pin in the sixth, but he missed the eight-foot putt for a birdie. He clicked for an easy three on the short seventh and then almost made another birdie on the eighth where his run-up shot hit the pole, only to jump out.

He played a grand second shot on the long ninth, ten feet from the cup and again barely missed an eagle three with the ball topping on the lip.

Cotton out—4 4 3 3 4 4 3 4 4—33.

The defending champion barely missed putts for birdies on the tenth and eleventh and then ran down an eighteen-footer for a birdie three on the twelfth to go four strokes under par.

Cotton reached the 458-yard fourteenth green with two prodigious pokes and got down in two putts from twenty feet for a birdie four. On the short sixteenth, he holed out for a par three. He bagged another birdie at the seventeenth where he rammed down a ten-footer and then he lost two strokes to par on the eighteenth to finish the second nine in thirty-five for a sixty-eight. He bunkered his drive on the home hole and failed to get out with his second shot. He finally reached the front edge of the green in four and got down in two putts from twenty-eight feet.

Cotton in—4 4 3 3 4 4 3 4 6—35—68.

DARK DYNAMITE

JOE LOUIS

hailed as the new "black menace" of pugilism following his devastating sixth round technical knockout over Primo Carnera yesterday evening. Winner by the kayo route over nineteen fighters since he started his professional career, the twenty-one-year-old negro has brought new enthusiasm to the fight game in the big men's class.

McFadyen Hurls Braves To Win

Returns to Form With Boston Team to Improve Record; Giants and Cubs Split Pair; Extra Inning Fixtures in Coast Loop

Associated Press

Perhaps it was nostalgia that caused the decline of Pitcher Danny "Deacon" McFayden. At any rate since he returned to "Beantown" with the Braves he has taken a new lease on life and bolstered his sagging pitching record.

Danny first began throwing his twisters for Somerville, Mass., high school. Then he went up with the Red Sox in 1926. In 1931 he won sixteen games and lost twelve and so impressed the Yankees' management they gave Henry Johnson, Ivy Andrews and a considerable sum of money for him. When he left Boston he left his pitching effectiveness behind. He had an in-and-out career with the Yanks, finally went with Cincinnati Reds and started off this year with indications he was in the twilight major league tenure. He had lost two and won but a single game when he joined the Braves June 13.

RETURNS TO FORM

Since then he has won three and lost two and yesterday he turned in a sterling victory over the second-place Pittsburgh Pirates, holding them to eight scattered hits and two runs while his mates ran up a total of seven tallies.

New York Giants and Chicago Cubs divided a doubleheader with the Giants winning the first 3 to 2 in ten innings and dropping the second 10 to 5 after Charlie Grimm of the Cubs had exhausted his managerial strategy, using eighteen men.

Paul Dean came back to break his three-game losing streak by pitching St. Louis Cards to a 6 to 4 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers, and Sylvester Johnson limited Cincinnati to eight hits to give the Phillies a 10 to 1 victory in the other National League game.

INDIANS DOWN YANKS

In the American League, Cleveland Indians staged a two-run rally in the ninth to defeat the Yankees 5 to 4 and reduce the league leader's margin to three games. The Yankees got to Mel Harder for twelve hits, while Johnny Allen was yielding only six, but for the most part Harder kept the blows well spaced.

Washington Senators took to the offerings of Schoolboy Rowe like a duck to water and hammered the big righthander for eleven hits to defeat Detroit 7 to 4.

COAST LEAGUE

Both San Francisco teams, the Seals and the Missions, managed to hold their position at the top of the Pacific Coast League baseball heap along with Los Angeles, but it took eleven innings for each of them to do it.

Those surprising Missions came from behind in the last half of the ninth when Louie Almada stretched a long fly into three bases and scored on Hollis Thurston's fly to tie the score, Almada tripled in the eleventh to bring in the winning run, the score being 5 to 4.

Howard Craghead, Seattle hurler, weakened after Joe di Maggio smashed out a double in the eleventh and filled the bags by hitting Ted Norbert with a pitched ball and walking Hal Rhyne, as the Seals beat the Indians 4 to 3.

The ability of Jim Oglesby, Los Angeles first baseman, to come through with hits when they counted enabled the Angels to defeat Portland 5 to 3.

Ken Douglas hurled five-hit baseball for Oakland while his mates pounded two Hollywood hurlers for ten hits, as the Acorns beat the Stars, 3 to 1.

Brunsdon's Boys Lead A Softball

Take Measure of Bert Waudes By Odd Run While Laundry Trims Burnermen By Same Margin

One-run margins made all the difference yesterday evening as Brunsdon's Boys took the undisputed lead of "A" section of the Lower Island Softball League. Continuing their sensational winning streak, Tommy Brunsdon's outfit took the measure of Bert Waudes, 7 to 6, at Bullen Park.

Silent Glows no longer share the top position as a result of the 9 to 8 beating they received from New Method Laundry, last year's city and island champions.

"Red" Palmer, pitching for Brunsdon's Boys, did the iron man stunt by batting in his team's seventh run to win his own ball game.

With the score deadlocked at 6 to 6, Osman singled in the first half of the eighth, reached second on Erickson's hit and came home with the winning run when Palmer singled.

FINE START

Brundson's Boys got off to a great start, scoring one run in the first and five in the second, leading 6 to 0 at the end of the third. Bert Waudes scored their first run in the opening half of the fourth and added another in the fifth.

The sixth was a big inning for the hairdressers, who tallied four runs and sewed up the score. The only other run scored was the winning one in the last of the eighth.

Score by innings:

Brundson's Boys 1 5 0 0 0 0 0 1 x—7

LOST IN NINTH

Silent Glows lost their important game at the eleventh hour. Leading 8 to 6, when their opponents went to bat in the last half of the ninth, they had the excruciating experience of seeing the New Method Laundry softballers bring home three runners and steal the show.

Aided by a homer from the bat of Stan Jones, bringing across the two men who were on base, the laundrymen bagged five runs in the first inning. Silent Glows replied with three in the first of the second and added three more in the fourth to take a 6 to 5 lead.

The score was evened by New Method in the last half of the fifth stanza. The burnermen, however, came right back in the sixth with two runs to take an 8 to 6 lead, which they held until the dismal ninth.

Score by innings:

Silent Glows .. 0 3 0 3 0 2 0 0 0—8
N. M. Laundry. 5 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 3—9

In a third "A" section fixture, the Army lost again at Work Point Barracks, bowing to Civic Staff, 7 to 2.

FIVE HOME RUNS

Five home runs featured the encounter in which Spencers won their tenth straight victory in "C" section. They defeated Hill's Corner, 14 to 3. Two double plays by Bradley and O'Connor, of Spencers, were additional highlights. The circuit clouts were registered by Anderson, who got three, Knapp and Bradley.

In the women's section, Kresge's Cardinals won another at the expense of Kresge's Reds, 36 to 4. Live Wires whitewashed Hudson's Bay, 37 to 0. At Sidney the North Saanich Service Club took another onesided encounter from the C.Y.P.C., 41 to 4.

TO-NIGHT'S CARD

Two exhibition games are carded to-night. Cobble Hill men will battle Bert Waudes at Upper Central, and a women's squad from the same place will take on the Live Wires at Lower Central.

League game for this evening follow:

VANCOUVER NET STARS BEATEN

Eleanor Young and Caroline Deacon Eliminated From Wimbledon Women's Play

London, June 26. — Eleanor Young of Vancouver, who drew a bye into the second round of women's singles, was defeated by Mme. de Meulemeester of Belgium, 6-1, 6-4, to-day in the third round of the Wimbledon tennis tournament.

The Canadian junior champion improved after a disappointing first set but was no match for the Belgian, better known as Mlle. Sigart. Her accurate placements kept Miss Young hopelessly chasing the ball.

Caroline Deacon of Vancouver, who also got into the second round on a bye, was defeated by Miss Riddell of Great Britain, 6-1, 6-4. The Canadian senior champion was very nervous on her first Wimbledon appearance and was unable to settle down in the first set. In the second set she was more confident and made some beautiful hard-hit drives. She was not afraid to visit the net and played many brilliant volleys. Miss Riddell's greater experience and steadiness from the base line enabled her to win the hard-fought match.

Joan Hartigan, Australian star, defeated Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France, 10-8, 6-8, 6-3.

BETTER STOCK BREEDERS' AIM

Cariboo Settlers Form Association to Improve Strain of Cattle

Co-operating with the Department of Agriculture, settlers in Kersley district of the Cariboo area are making a concerted effort this year to improve the breed of their livestock, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, said this morning.

The Dominion livestock branch is assisting by placing three purebred shorthorn bulls in the area. Livestock improvement associations have been formed and corrals and housing facilities for the bulls constructed by old-fashioned "bees." The minister complimented the breeders on their initiative.

For many years, he explained, scrub bulls running on the ranges have proved a problem to ranchers wishing to improve the grade of their beef cattle. The situation became so serious that hard feelings were created within the community and the quality of cattle was continually deteriorating. One of the first steps by the new associations was to get rid of the scrub bulls.

Other districts are planning to follow Kersley, the minister said.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Beverley Hills, June 26.—To the Editor of The Times: In schools they have what they call intelligence tests. Well, if nations held 'em I don't believe we would be what you would call a favorite to win it. The chain letter thing lasted just two days in England. Over here it took us a whole month to figure it out and Mexico laughed the thing out of their country before lunch. Then was "Technocracy" which we took serious for over three months. There is still a lot of monkey in us. Throw anything you want to into our cage and we will give it serious consideration.

Yours,
Will Rogers.

CLAIM WRONG BONDS SOLD

Norris Grain Company to-day sued C. L. H. Branson Ltd., in the Supreme Court for $8,873 as a result of an order executed in New York over the wires of the grain firm by which a quantity of Brazil bonds were sold for a Victoria client.

H. C. all, K.C., counsel for the Norris Grain, claimed that his clients paid the Branson firm for the bonds when the delivery was made to them here. But when the bonds reached New York, he said, it was found they did not fill the specifications of the bonds that had been ordered sold. As a result, Norris Grain had to buy on the open market in New York enough of the specified bonds to fill the order that had been executed there. Their action was for what they had paid out and their loss on the transaction.

A. D. Crease, counsel for the Branson firm, when the case was called before Mr. Justice Murphy to-day, made technical objections to paragraphs in the statement of claim.

The judge ordered the statement re-drawn.

BRAZILIAN TRACTION

Toronto, June 26. (Canadian Press) —While there have been no material changes in the rate, milreis and remittance situations since publication of the firm's annual report, difficulties facing the company in this respect still do not make it feasible to declare a dividend on ordinary shares, it was announced at the annual meeting of the Brazilian Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., held here yesterday, by Miller Lash, president.

Much attention to social legislation is being paid in Brazil and general wage increases are likely, Mr. Lash said. These will be expensive to the company in earlier stages but will subsequently have a beneficial effect.

The company will make a dividend payment as soon as directors deem it is in the best interests to do so.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement estimate groups of three or less figures as one word. Dollar marks and all abbreviations count as one word.

In estimating the number of lines in an advertisement count five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute guide to the number of lines, much depending on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one issue. Any claim for rebate on account of errors or omissions must be made within thirty days from the date of the same, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at The Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, phone E7522 before 9 p.m. and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Tongue Important In Checking Ills

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

For many years, doctors have considered the tongue important in determining ailments. In fact, back in 1895, doctors invariably began their physical examinations by looking at it.

We know now, however, that they put a good deal more stress on the condition of the tongue than was really necessary; even though there is still a great deal to be learned from this extraordinary organ.

In scarlet fever, for example, the tongue looks like a strawberry. In ulcers of the stomach, it is usually bright red and moist.

A thin white coating or furring on the tongue is not an alarming sign, however, since it is fairly common in people who smoke a great deal, or who breathe mostly through the mouth.

The tongue's appearance is said to be most important in relationship to diseases of stomach and intestines. In this connection, however, it is not an absolutely certain sign that something is wrong, but only an indication.

There are, however, certain diseases of the tongue which give it an unusual appearance. Some people, for instance, have hairy tongues; in others, the tongues have a mottled appearance which make them resemble a map. Aptly, this condition is called geographic tongue.

If the tongue trembles slightly when it is extended, disturbances of the nervous system may be indicated. This condition is likely to be noted in cases of chronic alcoholism and in general paralysis.

There are other diseases in which one-half of the tongue becomes very large, the other half remaining small. A glandular disturbance, usually reflected in the body as a whole, is frequently responsible.

In certain blood disorders, the tongue is soft and easily damaged. When this is the case, a bite of the tongue brings on a large blue-black blister, which may last for several days.

Children whose tongues are coated because of common infectious diseases can keep their mouths clean by using mouth washes. In some cases, even chewing gum helps to clean off the debris.

DOUBLED UP WITH RHEUMATISM

Could Not Wash Himself Nor Brush His Hair

So bad was his rheumatism that his friends declared he would never work again. Although he is 70 years old, he proved they were wrong. Read what he says:

"I am seventy years of age. Last Christmas I was completely doubled up with rheumatism. I could not brush my hair nor wash myself. People said I should never work any more. I am working harder than a young man to-day. Thanks, many thanks, to Kruschen Salts. I take them in my tea, and I have recommended them to many. I could not get in or out of bed myself, nor sit up. But see me work now—12 hours a day sometimes. Kruschen Salts have done it."—G. J.

Rheumatic conditions are the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients assist Nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channel. In addition, there are still other salts in Kruschen which prevent food fermentation in the intestines, and thereby check the further accumulation not only of uric acid, but of other body poisons which undermine the health.

NEW MUSICAL AT CAPITOL

Al Jolson Co-stars With Ruby Keeler in "Go Into Your Dance"

"Go Into Your Dance," First National's latst musical spectacle, opens at the Capitol Theatre to-day with Al Jolson and his wife, Ruby Keeler, co-starring.

This is the first time Jolson, the famous Broadway singer who introduced talking pictures to the public, and Miss Keeler, one time musical comedy star who rose to fame in two years on the screen, have ever played together before. Their team work is said to be remarkable.

The picture is based on a story by Bradford Ropes, author of "42nd Street." It is intensely dramatic in spots, with hilarious comedy situations and a glowing romance.

There are seven song hits in the picture, written by the ace team of Warren and Dubin. These are sung by Jolson, Miss Keeler and Helen Morgan, famous torch singer.

Jolson and Miss Keeler have the romantic leads with Miss Morgan as the other woman who nearly spoils the life of Miss Keeler, a little dancing girl, as well as doing her best to wreck a show being staged, through her jealous rage. Glenda Farrell, as Jolson's sister, finally straightens matters in a sensational climax.

DOMINION THEATRE

Although it has several dramatic moments, "Vagabond Lady," the Hal Roach-M-G-M feature comedy now playing at the Dominion Theatre is in reality a comedy. For despite the seriousness of many situations in which the various players are involved as the story unfolds, delightful humor is threaded throughout the production which was so deftly directed by Sam Taylor. Featured in a large and imposing cast are Robert Young, Evelyn Venable, Berton Churchill, Reginald Denny, Frank Craven and others. The story concerns itself with the romantic adventures of the scion of the House of Spear, one of the "first families," and one whose undying motto, "Dignity—Always!" is carried to such an extremity that it is responsible for a number of untoward happenings.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Alfred E. Green, who directed Barbara Stanwyck in her latest First National production, "A Lost Lady," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, has recently succumbed to a new hobby.

On his new ranch in the San Fernando Valley not far from the First National studio, Al is occupying his spare moments raising thoroughbred horses. A keenly discriminating lover of horse-flesh for years, Al hopes eventually to be the proud owner of colts who will ultimately make their mark on the racetracks of the country.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Richard Whiting, one of the country's best known composers of popular music, and Sidney Clare, noted lyricist, wrote the song sung by Shirley Temple in her latest Fox starring picture, "Bright Eyes," now at the Playhouse Theatre. The song is "On The Good Ship Lollipop," and, in the opinion of Hollywood preview audiences, is certain to become a national hit number.

AL JOLSON AT HIS BEST

The "Mammy" crooner, with his wife, Ruby Keeler. The scene is from Warner Bros.' latest musical hit, "Go Into Your Dance," now at the Capitol Theatre.

Savings Deposits In Ontario Grow

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 26.—Deposits in the Ontario government's savings offices throughout the province have increased by $3,000,000 since the interest rate was raised from 2 to 2½ per cent, following failure of investment dealers to tender on the province's $15,000,000 loans, according to Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn.

FARMERS' BANK FOR THE CHINESE

Canadian Press

Nanking, China, June 26.—The government is backing the organization of the Farmers' Bank of China, which will have a paid-up capital of $10,000,000 in Chinese money, equivalent to about $4,200,000 in Canadian money.

The new bank, which will issue its own currency, will be nation-wide in its operations, and will absorb the farmers' banks of the four provinces of Honan, Tupeh, Anhui and Kiangsi. Special attention will be devoted to financing rural co-operative societies, and to financing drainage and irrigation projects.

TROTSKY AGAIN VANISHES IN NORWAY

At the finish Louis showed no more emotion than while sitting calmly in his corner before the first bell. From start to finish "Dead Pan Joe" never changed his boyish, serious expression.

The victory marked the nineteenth knockout for Louis in only twenty-three professional fights.

Gross receipts, $340,000, fell below expectations but marked a new high for a non-title match in the last five years. Net receipts were set at $277,000.

ROUND ONE

The great hulk of Carnera came bounding out to mid-ring, where Louis, dwarfed by the Italian's size, hooked a left to the body before he was smothered in Primo's arms. Louis shot three stiff rights to the head. He drove the Italian to the ropes and smashed his jaw with another right. Rights and lefts thudded off Carnera's head and the big former champion was dazed and wobbly. The crowd screamed in a rising crescendo as the effortless negro stalked the giant, expression never changing. Carnera held him off with a long left, but another right started blood dripping from Carnera's lips. Louis drove Carnera into a corner and hammered both hands to the body. Carnera mustered all his huge bulk and hurled his small tormentor into the ropes, where he bludgeoned him about the head with both hands as Louis ducked away and shot a hard left to the head at the bell.

ROUND TWO

Carnera tore across the ring, the instructions of his seconds to "stay in close" ringing in his ears. As he reached to smother Louis in his big arms, the negro smashed a left and right to Carnera's jaw. Another left hook knocked Carnera into the ropes, but he wrestled Joe about and flung the little fellow into corner. Carnera plodded Joe's head with a long left, but the negro wove low and ripped both hands with terrific force into Carnera's body. Primo backed into the ropes, his mouth dripping blood again, as Joe ripped a long left hook to his head. Primo tried desperately to nail the negro, he never stepped backward, with a right-hand smash, but Joe whipped three successive left hooks to Carnera's head. Shaken again, Carnera was flinging his hands wildly at the expressionless negro, taking both hands to the body, as the bell rang.

ROUND THREE

Louis encircled the giant like a tug steaming round an ocean liner as they came to mid-ring. Primo tried to box, and Louis brought his head back with a left jab. Primo missed a ponderous left hook to the head and Joe buried a left deep in the Italian's side. The pacce slowed for a moment, then rose again as Louis drove Carnera into the ropes and flung hands into Primo's head. A left hook thudded into Carnera's body, but the giant managed to peck Joe's head with two lefts and dropped over a short right. Joe ducked low and ripped two smashing rights under Carnera's heart. Primo backed away, jabbing, and Louis followed him, whipping thunderous lefts and rights into the monster's body. Primo tried to flounder away, but Louis was still on top of him, punching with sharpshooter accuracy to the body as the bell rang.

ROUND FOUR

The huge-muscled Carnera marched gallantly into the little brown man at the bell, still undaunted. He ripped one right to Joe's body and blocked a half-dozen swings to the head as they wrestled along the ropes. Primo kept his arms higher, and Joe's short swings started booming off his elbows. Louis stuck a long left into Primo's body, which he could hardly miss, and shook the giant again with a left hook to the chin. Louis missed a long right and Primo roughed him up a little as he shook him around from side to side in close. A long right bounced off Carnera's chin, and the giant wobbled momentarily again. Joe drilled a left and right to Carnera's bleeding lips, but Primo shook his head and jabbed right back at him as the gong sounded.

ROUND FIVE

Primo backed around the ring, stabbing at Louis' head with a long left. Joe dug two lefts into Carnera's body and stabbed the giant's chin with a jab. As the action slowed, the crowd started booing. Carnera roughed Louis in a clinch and the negro drove him furiously into a corner. He smashed Carnera's head with lefts and right-hand swings, and the blood from the giant's mouth trickled down his chin. Relentlessly, Louis forced the struggling man mountain back and another left hook rocked Carnera. Joe missed a long right, sank a hard left in Carnera's body, and then crossed a crunching right to the jaw. Primo backed away, arms high, fending off Louis's furious volley, and then the best Joe could do was rap him with a left to the body as the bell rang.

ROUND SIX

Louis' expression still hadn't changed as he trotted out and circled his big foe. They swapped left hooks to the head and Carnera looked querulous as Louis sank a left hook into his stomach just above the belt line. Carnera picked Louis up and moved him to the ropes, where he slugged him hard with a right to the body. Carnera drove two hard rights to the body, but took a terrific right to the chin that floored him for a count of four. He came up reeling, his face spouting blood, and Louis sank him again for another count of four with another right to the head. Helpless and reeling, Carnera went down again for the third and last time under a crushing left hook to the chin. Carnera staggered helplessly to his feet at the count of three and stood there, his hands down dazed, as Referee Donovan stopped the fight and awarded Louis the victory on a technical knockout, two minutes and thirty-two seconds after the start.

Living Policyholders

are Receiving

75%

of Life Insurance Benefits

Beneficiaries Receive the Balance

YEAR after year, living policyholders are receiving by far the greater share of the moneys disbursed in Life Insurance benefits in Canada.

In 1934, for example, these living policyholders received an average of over $400,000 every working day! In that year, their total receipts of over 127 million dollars amounted to 75% of all Life Insurance benefits; the balance of nearly 42 million dollars was distributed among beneficiaries of deceased policyholders.

Through Life Insurance disbursements, thousands of Canadians from coast to coast have been able to realize their earlier ambitions. Men and women have won financial independence in their later years. Young men have obtained a start in business. Children have been educated. Families have been tided over periods of financial stress.

Life Insurance offers a safe, because it is a scientific, plan of saving for future needs. Not only does it provide vital protection for dependents but it enables millions of policyholders to make sure of money when they need it most.

As a Life Insurance policyholder, your savings are held "in trust" for you. They are safely invested on your behalf so that you can look forward to the time when you will enjoy the benefits of your own thrift.

OAK BAY AFTER COLLECTED LEVY

The City Council yesterday evening decided it would stand by its claim to $7 in road and poll taxes which it has collected from a resident whose property straddles the Oak Bay-city boundary line.

The council received a letter from Oak Bay announcing its claim to the money. The amount had already been paid to the city, however, and the aldermen decided they had as just as good a claim to it as Oak Bay. The question was referred to the finance committee which was instructed to protect the city's rights.

LANGFORD

Mrs. E. C. Stewart, who has been in Los Angeles for the last three weeks, has returned to her home on the Goldstream Road.

Mrs. D. Clarke and daughter, Mickey are staying at their summer home, "The Terraces," Langford Lake.

Victoria people recently renting summer bungalows at Langford Lake include: Mr. and Mrs. Mulliner and daughters in Dr. W. Russel's house; Mr. and Mrs. Collard, Mrs. Swift at Land's End Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Findley and family in Alderman A. Peden's Bungalow on Leigh Road.

Duncan, June 26.—The sum of $81.76 was the amount raised in Duncan on Saturday by the selling of roses for Alexandra Rose Day.

The City Council yesterday evening received and filed a letter from A. D. King on behalf of the B.C. Electric, claiming city taxi fares governed by the city by-law were in contravention to the city's agreement with the company. The council was advised by the solicitor he did not think the clause referred to did violate the agreement.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

The regular meeting of the Malahat Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on Friday at the home of the regent, Mrs. V. H. Stewart McLeod. Arrangements were made for a "Jubilee at Home" on July 20. Tenative plans were made for a bridge tournament in August to raise funds for the chapters activities. Three large parcels of clothing were reported sent to the chapters' adopted family in the Peace River District.

The Shawnigan public school held its annual breaking up picnic on Saturday. Principal A. H. Plows and Miss E. V. Ander organized the affair assisted by the trustees and parents. Sports were successfully run off and several inter school soft ball games played.

Inspector H. C. Fraser visited the public school last week and held an examination of the seven entrance pupils. As a result, the seven passed.

In accordance with a request from the Victoria Horticultural Society, the City Council yesterday evening authorized the employment of single relief recipients to clean out noxious weeds in the city.

Automatic Traffic Signals Start To-morrow

Police Chief Seeks Public Co-operation For Traffic Safety

Four Signals in Downtown Business Area Will Mark Introduction of Modern Control in Victoria; Education of Public Is Departmental Head's Aim

Marking another progressive step towards traffic control, automatic signals will commence operation in Victoria to-morrow.

Overhanging lights will start flashing at Douglas Street intersections at Johnson, Yates, View and Fort Streets.

In connection with the installation of the lights Chief Thomas Heatley is seeking the earnest co-operation of the city's driving public and pedestrians to insure the proper handling of the system and to facilitate traffic movement during the rush hours.

"Traffic lights are new to Victoria and although many of our citizens have had experience with them in outside cities, many have not, and to those I specially appeal and ask for their co-operation. Doubtless during the first few days of their operation pedestrians and motorists will experience some difficulty in becoming accustomed to regulations which they had not formerly observed," the chief states.

STUDY REGULATIONS

"By carefully studying the rules outlined in this page, however, Victorians will materially assist the police department in educating themselves to driving and walking with traffic lights.

"Those engaged in the subject of automatic light control very quickly realize a certain fact, that street traffice congestion originates mainly at intersections and that traffic officers' control at intersections has certain fundamental disadvantages.

"The failings of traffic officers' control may be summarized as follows:

"Traffic officers' hand signals are not readily visible to all drivers.

"Traffic officers' hand signals tend to be directed to individual drivers rather than to groups, thereby causing traffic to move more slowly through intersections than is necessary for safety.

"The same signal does not always mean the same thing. Each officer has his own personal little characteristics; hence, drivers are a little more hesitant at officer-controlled intersections.

"Officer controlling has the effect on a considerable percentage of drivers such as to make them more timid at such intersections. After indicating where they wish to go, they tend to wait for a personal signal to proceed.

WAIT FOR STRAGGLERS

"The traffic officer is prone to wait for stragglers, instead of dealing promptly with waiting traffic.

"The traffic officer cannot work on highest efficiency continuously; therefore, his average traffic regulation cannot be as good as his best.

"The traffic officer cannot see in all directions at once, and his mind is unable to consider all conditions at an intersection of any complexity.

"The cost of officer-control is high.

"The form of driving in the city whereby the driver takes advantage of the pedestrian's hesitancy to drive at him, at intersections, is obviously decreasing rapidly, and it is now the custom, rather than the exception, for drivers to pull up and wave the pedestrians on.

BE CONSIDERATE

"The education and regulation of pedestrians as well as drivers should be given greater attention. Pedestrians and motorists should bear a considerate attitude each to the other. Pedestrians, as well as motor vehicle operators, should be required to obey traffic rules and regulations.

"There are certain drivers who, because they repeatedly violate traffic laws, become a serious menace to highway safety and orderly traffic. Encourage co-operation of citizens motorists and pedestrians alike, to the end that the streets of the city may be made safer."

DON'TS FOR CAR DRIVERS AND PEDESTRIANS

In order that public education to the use of traffic signals may be more suitably carried out, motorists and pedestrians are requested to note the following "don'ts" which have been listed by Police Chief Heatley in order to facilitate traffic control:

Don't start your car in motion until the signal above you shows green.

Don't start to move at the first bell.

Don't fail to keep to proper traffic lanes if you are making a turn at an intersection.

Don't speed up to an intersection in an effort to make a crossing before the light changes. This is a dangerous practice and often results in fatal accidents.

Pedestrians must not loiter while crossing intersections.

Pedestrians must keep to the right side of the pedestrian lane in order to keep traffic moving evenly.

Jay-walking at intersections or in the middle of a block will not be tolerated.

Don't walk across the street when the signal is against you. You are endangering your own life and the lives of others.

OPERATION EXPLAINED

Victoria's new automatic traffic light system will be a two-light system. A green light will be used to indicate "Go" and a red light will be used to indicate "Stop."

At the first warning bell all four sides of the signal will show red, in order to allow pedestrians and vehicles on the intersections to get quickly across and to allow a clearance of the intersections before the changing of the signals. At the second bell, the green signals appear on two sides, indicating that motorists and pedestrians may cross. It has been the tendency in other cities for people to start to cross on the first bell; this is a very dangerous practice, and will not be permitted in this city, the police department warns.

People should walk across the intersections at a fair pace, and not loiter in crossing. Pedestrians, when crossing, should keep to the right side of the pedestrians' crossing. Pedestrians must cross at intersections. The by-laws prohibiting jaywalking and crossing in the middle of a block will be enforced by the police. Traffic regulations for people crossing at crossings against the signals will be enforced.

SEEKS CO-OPERATION

who is seeking co-operation of the public generally in furthering the interests of traffic safety in conjunction with the installation of automatic signals in Victoria.

Fire Dep't. Has Right-of-way

When a fire alarm is sounded and engines are required to run through the city every bit of moving traffic is required to stop. Cars in the middle of intersections should proceed immediately to the curb and stay there until normal traffic movement is resumed.

The fire engines have complete right-of-way at all intersections and when the engines are making a run through the city the traffic signals will show red on all four sides. This is made possible by a control box in fire headquarters.

The following grants were authorized by the City Council yesterday evening: $150 for the public schools sports, $250 for the Salvation Army and $4,000 for the Publicity Bureau on account of its annual grant. Expenditure of $1,000 for structural changes in the City Hall was also authorized.

Signals Start Here To-morrow

Victoria's automatic traffic signal system will be officially tested at midnight to-night and will commence operation to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, according to announcement by Chief Heatley and Walter B. McMicking, city lighting superintendent.

SOON TO BE HISTORY

The now famous hand-operated stop-and-go sign, which has directed traffic at the corner of Yates and Douglas Street for several months, will soon be a relic of history as far as Victoria's traffic department is concerned. The signal, which not so long ago was the subject of much discussion and some criticism from critics of the city traffic system, is shown here being operated by Constable A. H. Phipps.

The City Council yesterday evening authorized the calling of tenders for a one and a half ton truck and a motorcycle for the garbage department and a one and a half ton truck for the waterworks department.

Wall St. Uncertain With Trend Lower And Close Heavy

Associated Press

New York, June 26.—The stock market was in uncertain frame of mind to-day and after see-sawing up and down in a narrow range throughout most of the session turned definitely lower near the close. There were a few instances of isolated strength. The closing tone was easy. Sales approximated 950,000 shares.

Other financial markets were mixed. Wheat and other grains were swept upward impressively by adverse weather reports but cotton gave an indifferent performance and other commodities such as sugar held within narrow limits. Corporate bonds were a trifle better.

In the share market, leaders drifted back and forth most all day without showing much change until offerings increased during the final half hour and found a scarcity of open buying orders. Losses of minor fractions up to a point were shown by Standard Oil of New Jersey, Johns-Manville, Cerro De Pasco, Santa Fe, American Telephone, Du Pont, Chrysler, U.S. Steel and Westinghouse. American Telephone and American Can dropped one to two points.

Radio preferred "B" was an outstanding performer during the morning and at one time was nearly two points higher but lost all its advantage in late transactions. Other shares that moved briskly at the same time fared better, however, and a numbr ended one of three higher, including Columbia Pictures and International Business Machines.

Later news included announcement that directors of the U.S. Smelting Co. had ordered a dividend of $2 a share on the common against $1 paid in the last distribution.

Dow Jones averages closed at New York to-day as follows:
Thirty industrials, 117.65, off 1.08.
Twenty rails, 32.76, off 0.38.
Twenty utilities, 21.68, off 0.27.

MINES FIRM AT TORONTO

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 26.—While the general tone of the Toronto Mining Share Market was firm to-day the list harbored some weak spots, especially in the gold group.

Macassa and Sylvanite were both down about 8 to 14 cents for the day. Base metal and silver stocks did better on moderate trade.

Serength of Noranda, following several days of falling prices, was a market feature. It closed above $35, a net gain of 50 cents.

Modest gains were registered for Castle and Bear. Eldorado also was up fractionally. Premier added a couple of cents.

Heavy buying gave a smart upward slant to Read Authier, up 10 cents at $1.00.

INDUSTRIALS MARKET FIRM

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 26.—Ford A featured the Toronto industrial share market to-day, gaining more than a point on heavy trading. Other interlisted leaders were mainly steady. Mild weakness was displayed by the foods and utility and steel groups split about even on losses and gains.

Oil shares closed with losses up to half point showing for International Petroleum and Imperial. Beverage stocks acted in like manner, and Distillers Seagrams eased back ⅛, or more, while Canada Bud, under selling pressure, dropped about a point.

Consolidated Smelters held firm to strong, Brazilian was barely firm, and in the utility section lower prices ruled for Consumers' Gas, Union Gas and Montreal Power.

Aside from a loss of several points for Bank of Nova Scotia, the financial institutions were steady in slow trade.

Fractional Gains On Winnipeg Mart In Quiet Session

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, June 26.—Disregarding temporarily, the lack of demand for Canada's wheat, prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day took leadership from Chicago to score moderate gains. Values closed ½ to ⅝ cent higher, July at 81½ and August 82¼ cents.

Volume of operations was small and, with offering light, a minimum of buying sufficed to hold values at higher levels.

Advances of 2 cents were marked up at one time in the Chicago market, bringing out moderate local buying. Liverpool closed ⅛d lower. No figure being placed upon the odd export lots sold. Small quantities of oats and barley were sold abroad from eastern stocks.

Cash grains were slow. Coarse grains futures firmed.

Administration For U.S. Youth

New Plan, Announced By Roosevelt, Would Give Training and Work

Washington, June 26. — President Roosevelt to-day established a "National Youth Administration" to meet what he called a "great national need" by offering unemployed youth "their chance in school, their turn as apprentices and their opportunity for jobs."

The new agency will be under the work relief programme. The President set aside $50,000,000 to be used in providing work apprenticeships in private industry, in offering high school and college training for those between sixteen and twenty-one; and in giving work relief to youths.

The plan is expected to aid an estimated 500,000 of young men and girls.

Canadian Press

New York, June 26.—An issue of Canadian gold mining shares, said by bankers to be the first such securities qualified under the Securities Act of 1933 to be offered in the New York market, were presented for sale yesterday evening. The securities were issued by Gold Eagle Gold Mines Ltd., of Toronto, Canada.

PRINCE TALKS OF FARM PROBLEMS

Canadian Press

London, June 26.—The Prince of Wales to-day told a delegation of 200 representatives of the agricultural benevolent societies "the farmer is probably the most beset with difficulties of any man in England."

Receiving the delegates at St. James's Palace, the Prince said:

"My experience in farming on the Duchy of Cornwall estate and my ranch in (Alberta) Canada has taught me a good deal of the practical difficulties of the farmer's life."

"The industry never knows what to-morrow will bring forth, for in addition to economic troubles, the farmer has always the uncertain forces of nature to contend with. They can easily exhaust his slender capital and cause complete ruin of a lifetime's work."

U-BOAT PLEDGE RAISES DOUBTS

London Press Skeptical on Germany's Renunciation of Unrestricted Warfare

Associated Press

London, June 26.—The press greeted with skepticism to-day Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell's disclosure in the House of Commons that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler had agreed to renounce "unrestricted submarine warfare."

Open doubt as to how ironclad Hitler's promise would prove to be under stress of war was voiced in Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express.

The newspaper pointed out editorially that Germany promised at the Hague convention of 1899 not to use poison gas in wartime, "but April 22, 1915, a dark cloud rolled from the German trenches on through no man's land toward the French and Canadian trenches."

"If a grey hull of a U-boat slides out of water and fires her deadly torpedo toward some helpless merchantman in midocean it won't do the skipper much good to murmur reminiscently, 'In 1934 they said they would never do it again'," The Express said.

GREAT TOLL RECALLED

The London Daily Telegraph hailed Hitler's pledge to "foreswear the system of warfare responsible for destruction of more than 11,000,000 tons of British and other shipping and deaths of 16,000 noncombatants at sea."

The London News-Chronicle urged a "proper ending to this dark chapter of naval history should be abandonment of submarine building by agreement generally of all naval powers."

Vancouver, June 26.—L. Laird Gordon, forty-six, president and managing director of Gordon and Belyea Ltd., died early to-day.

Some years after formation in 1914 of the wholesale hardware firm here, Mr. Gordon merged another company with his original firm.

He was born in Prince Edward Island and was educated at Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown.

SOVIET BALLOON UP 52,165 FEET

Associated Press

Moscow, June 26. — The All-Soviet stratosphere balloon, "U.S.S.R. 1 B.I.S." landed safely to-day near Tula, 150 miles from Moscow, after a two hour and thirty-five minute flight during which it reached an altitude of 15,900 metres (52,165 feet).

The balloon is the same that set a Soviet record of 19,000 metres (62,335 feet) in 1933.

Wheat Pools For New Board

Commons Committee Told Producers Favor Monopoly of Marketing

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—Strong opposition was registered to-day by the wheat pools to the proposal of the Winnipeg grain dealers that the government continue to stablize the market but allow sales of futures and ordinary market operations whenever prices are above a fixed minimum. Evidence was given by Paul Bredt, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, before the House of Commons committee studying the grain board bill.

Grain dealers had proposed the new board follow the system in force in Argentina. It would only buy wheat when the price dropped below a minimum, and sell it as soon as possible at a loss if necessary. The board would absorb the loss.

WOULD ADD TO COST

So long as the government stabilized an otherwise open market, Mr. Bredt contended, outside interests would take advantage of it to make profits and the cost to the government in the final analysis would be much greater.

"If it is thought advisable and necessary to assist the producers of western Canada for the time being out of the taxes of all the people, it would be much more satisfactory to know this money was going entirely to help the producers and not part of it going to outside interests."

WOULD ELIMINATE FUTURES

Mr. Bredt took the view the only way to assure that all government assistance would find its way to the producer, was by the method proposed in the bill, which gives the board a monopoly of marketing the entire crop and would do away with futures selling entirely.

MARKETING BILL PASSED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—The government bill amending the Marketing Act received third reading in the House of Commons to-day. It now goes to the Senate.

An amendment offered by Hon. J. C. Elliott, Liberal, West Middlesex, Ont., was lost on a vote of 90 to 53.

Mr. Elliott moved to delete a clause which would place the onus of proof on a farmer or dealer charged with breaking an order of a local board. If found to possess products in an area in which a marketing scheme operated, the farmer or dealer would have to prove the goods were imported to the area and the prosecutor would not have to present proof.

SHARE PURCHASE PLAN DROPPED

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 26. — When the Manufacturers' Finance Corporation proposed to open an office in Vancouver for discounting automobile paper, Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., offered to take 400 shares of the corporation's stock, but when this was not done no subscription was signed and no allotment made, Norman Somerville, K.C., said to-day at the inquiry into the operations of the corporation, now defunct.

Salter Hayden, assistant commission counsel, stated a letter from Mr. Stevens was in the files asking for release from the subscription.

The incident followed evidence yesterday which brought out several shareholders were still paying instalments on stock they had bought.

J. M. Godfrey, Ontario securities commissioner, accepted this as Mr. Stevens's answer to the question of the shares.

Mr. Somerville charged the matter "was just introduced to further the political ends of certal npeople."

"I don't think there is anything of a political nature in this inquiry," said Mr. Hayden. "If it is political my friends have made it so."

father answered. He well knew what skill and courage it takes to stalk a tiger's enormous strength, coupled with its fierce cunning. Then he told her of the attempts already made. . . .

—to rid the neighborhood of its terror. They had tried lying in wait for the creature on several moonlit nights. "Few men," he said, "dare risk the rashness of hunting tigers on foot." So a "machan," or small platform holding two persons, was built—

—in a small tree, twelve feet above ground. Nearby, they tethered a live goat. An hour before sunset the best native hunter, with an assistant, climbed into the "machan" and awaited the coming of the tiger. Three nights without success—

—then the beast stole out of the shadows, seized and carried off the prey too quickly for a shot. Once it boldly stalked out and stood in full view. When fired at, it darted back into the jungle and disappeared. Then came the fatal end for the hunters.

The Gumps

"Men Lack Chivalry" Still Modern Woman's Plaint

Dorothy Dix

Finds Girls Have Selves to Blame

ARE MODERN WOMEN killing the goose that lays the golden eggs by their attitude toward men? Certainly no one can deny that in spite of the much-vaunted emancipation of women they have not freed themselves from the traditions of sex nor has their boasted equality with men kept them from being dependent upon men for their good times and their eventual happiness.

Woman's achievements in the arts and sciences and the business world haven't altered the fact that two girls dancing together is a spectacle to make the beholder weep. Nor that the most brilliant, highbrowed college graduate who never has a beau envies the little nitwit who has dates to burn. Nor that the woman executive who rules 100 men with a rod of iron in the office is ashamed to show up at a party or a night club without something in trousers for an escort. Nor that in marriage a husband is an absolute necessity.

In a word, women want from men the attentions they have always wanted. They want flattery, chivalry, love and marriage, and they are not getting any of these things nearly so much as their mothers and grandmothers did, whereat they make grievous lamentations and beat upon their breasts.

Women are always complaining, for instance, about the lack of chivalry in men, and they recall with tears in their voices the good old days when men took off their hats in elevators and no gentleman smoked before a lady without asking permission or kept his seat in a crowded car when a woman stood.

But, in reality, who killed the carpet knight? Didn't women commit the foul deed when they came out of the parlor and went into the store and the counting room? When they became men's business competitors and rivals they climbed down off their pedestals and forfeited the privilege of having men burn incense before them on their bended knees.

Judged by every practical standard the girl of to-day is better-looking, better educated, with far more accomplishments than her grandmother had and should be more attractive to men, but she is not. Grandma had men flocking around her like bees around a honey pot, with half a dozen enamored suitors sighing at her feet, while granddaughter has to work like a coalheaver to get dates with languid youths and has virtually to shanghai her man and drag him to the altar.

For this sad state of affairs woman is also to blame. She has killed romance by taking all the mystery out of it. Every woman is a beauty as long as she wears her seven veils of enchantment, but when she flaunts herself in shorts and a bandana handkerchief her every defect in anatomy smites the masculine beholder in the eye. As long as a man had to climb up to a girl's balcony to steal a kiss he risked his neck to get it, but when a girl's lips are a free lunch counter for every Tom, Dick and Harry, men have sort of lost their taste for them. The chaperon may have been a bore, but she was first aid to matrimony.

Then, too, if girls have fewer attentions from men than their grandmothers did, it is because they have made the fatal mistake of taking all the sport out of the woman chase by making it too easy. It is the difference between knocking over a setting hen and bringing down a bird on the wing. One rouses a man's fighting instincts. The other makes him tired. If there are no ardent suitors now, it is because men know that the girls will do all the courting and they don't have to bother about it.

Annabelle rings Tom up and wants to know why he hasn't been to see her and when he is coming. She writes him ten letters to his one. She buys the theatre and ball-game tickets and comes for him in her automobile. She forgives him when he stands her up and breaks dates and she thrills him just about as much as any other overripe fruit would. It is the peach that hangs out of reach on the tree that whets a man's appetite.

And women muffled the wedding bells when they instituted the "splendid camaraderie" between men and women of which we hear so much. In the old days when the only way a man could really get to talk to a girl without all her family listening in was to marry her, he grabbed her up and rushed off to the parson's. There were virtually no old maids then. But now when men and women work together and play together and even go off on unconventional trips together, a man gets about all of a girl's society he wants without letting himself in for her support. Hence, the girl bachelor with a gentleman friend who has been hanging around her for ten years without ever popping the question is a familiar figure in our midst.

Also, it is women who have dealt an almost lethal blow at marriage by the alimony racket. So ruthlessly has this been prosecuted that it has made marriage such a hazardous adventure that only the boldest and most foolhardy attempt it.

All of which reflections bring us back to the orogINal query: Have women killed the goose that lays the golden egg in dealing with men?

Uncle Wiggily And His Wife

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily looked into the kitchen where his wife and Nurse Jane were washing and drying the breakfast dishes.

"Goodbye!" called the rabbit gentleman.

"Goodbye!" said Nurse Jane catching hold of the milk pitcher by its nose before it could go roller skating with the bread knife.

"Where are you going?" asked Uncle Wiggily's wife as she looked at the clock to see if its face needed washing.

"Out to find an adventure," answered Mr. Longears. "I hope I find a jolly one."

"I hope so, too," squeaked Nurse Jane. Being a muskrat lady that's the way she talked.

Mrs. Longears watched her husband hopping down the garden path out through a hole in the back fence and over the fields to the woods. Then Uncle Wiggily's wife dropped the dish towel and said:

"I'm going, Nurse Jane."

"Going where?" asked the muskrat lady.

HE'LL BE SURPRISED

"To look for an adventure!" said Mrs. Longears with a laugh. "I don't see why Wiggy should be the only one in this bungalow to have adventures. I'm going out to look for one myself. And when I come back and tell him about it, Oh, won't he be surprised!"

"Indeed he will!" said Nurse Jane with a laugh. "Have you ever gone adventuring Mrs. Longears?"

"No, but there must always be a first time, you know."

"Oh, yes. But do you know how to look for adventures?"

"Goodness knows!" said Mrs. Longears, "I have heard Wiggy tell, often enough, how he finds adventures. I don't believe it will be hard for me to find one."

"I suppose not," agreed Nurse Jane. "Well, hop along. I'll finish drying the dishes."

"Thank you, Nurse Jane," said Mrs. Longears, twinkling her pink nose which she could do almost as well as could her husband. "When I come back, I'll tell you all about it. If Wiggy comes back before I do, please don't tell him where I've gone. I want to surprise him."

"I won't tell," promised Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

GOOD DAY FOR ADVENTURES

"It ought to be a good day for adventures," thought the bunny. All of a sudden he saw a bush shaking and moving. "There must be an adventure hiding behind that bush," thought Mr. Longears. "There is no wind to make the bush shake, so it must be an adventure." He sniffed and smelled with his nose and said: "There is no Bad Chap hidden in the bush so it must be an adventure. With his bright eyes he looked all around for an adventure. "I'll call it out."

Making his voice deep and rumbly as if he were down cellar, Uncle Wiggily hopped close to the bush and called: "Come out, Adventure!"

All at once the bush stopped shaking. Uncle Wiggily was sure, then, an adventure was hiding in it. He called again: "Come out, I tell you!"

All at once a voice in the bush said: "No! No! I'm not coming out! Please go away and let me alone! Go away, Bad Bear! I don't want you! I just want an adventure!"

Uncle Wiggily began to laugh. "Somebody hiding in that bush," he said, "thinks I'm a bear. I'll fool them!" Uncle Wiggily jumped behind the bush to look and see who was there. He saw a rabbit lady!

"Oh! Wiggy! Wiggy!" cried his wife! "I thought you were a Bear and I was sorry I had come out to look for an adventure. Oh, I'm so glad it's you! Take me home!"

Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. "You are a funny adventure for me to find!" Mrs. Longears thought the same. And if the pussy cat will walk on her hind legs and give the canary bird a ride, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane's adventure.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1935

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day in planetary direction. The morning hours may be disturbing to those who direct the work of employees.

Women are subject to aspects that increase their difficulties in business and the professions. They may be trying to deal with in business matters and inclined to insist on special privileges.

The planetary government may be unfavorable to those who sell dresses, jewelry and household furnishings which women purchase. Many unusual conditions will confront buyers for the fall trade, the seers foretell.

For artists the next few weeks may be disappointing—especially for those who seek engagements for the coming winter. But opportunities for actors and actresses will be numerous later.

Infection of water in various places is prophesied. Cattle and human beings should be safeguarded. Rumors of strange diseases are foretold and germs will be hunted with increased vigilance by scientists.

One of the developments in United States Government preparedness, in event of war, will be the increased interest in the navy.

This is a favorable day for the purchase of cool clothing. Weather that increases the popularity of beaches and other summer resorts is prognosticated. Public officials will relax in energy and vigilance.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of great advancement and real prosperity. Friends will aid certain ambitious ventures.

Children born on this day probably will be serious in mind and energetic in body. These subjects of Cancer are exceedingly persistent and determined.

Louis Chase, author, was born on this day, 1873. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Paul Laurence Dunbar, negro poet, 1872, and Helen Adams Keller, blind and deaf author and lecturer, 1880.

NYHORN FOR KNUTSEN RUN

Glasgow Will Be First Port of Call in New United Kingdom Service

Vancouver, June 26.—First vessel to operate from Vancouver and other Pacific Coast ports in the new direct service to United Kingdom of Knutsen Line will be the fast Norwegian motorship Nyhorn, it is announced by E. F. Riddle, manager of Canada Shipping Company Limited, Vancouver agents for the new service. The vessel will load a cargo of Argentine corn for delivery here and is expected in this range about September 15 when she will go on berth for Glasgow, Belfast and Manchester.

Departure of the Nyhorn will inaugurate the first regular berth line service from Vancouver to make Glasgow its first port of call, a feature expected to meet with the approval of local shippers interested in this market. It will likewise be the first regular service instituted to the northern Irish port of Belfast.

Other ships and positions as announced by Canada Shipping Company Limited, include Ms. John Bakke scheduled for this range late October, to be followed by Ms. Samuel Bakke, end November.

These liners, in addition to being equipped with modern refrigeration machinery and dry freight holds, have excellent accommodation for a limited number of first-class passengers. The large, well-ventilated two-berth staterooms are located amidships.

OREGON FISH STRIKE OVER

Associated Press

Astoria, Ore., June 26.—The strike of trollers, which has kept fishing off the Oregon coast at a virtual standstill since April, was terminated yesterday with the signing of agreements by the Columbia River Packers' Association, the Pacific Coast Fisheries Union, the Barbey Packing Company and the Columbia River Salmon Company.

The trolling fleet has set out for the coast off Newport where a heavy run of silversides is being reported.

Prices offered in the agreement were 9 cents a pound for large chinooks and 6 cents a pound for small chinooks and silversides. These prices are for delivery in the Columbia River. Coastal station delivery prices are a half a cent lower.

The operators agreed to withhold silverside salmon from the California fresh fish market. Trollers want this market for chinook salmon, which bring a better price there.

SKEPTICISM OVER ROBOTS

Value, Apart From Blind Flying, Doubted By Army and Navy Experts

Associated Press

Washington, June 26.—Skepticism was expressed yesterday by army and navy experts as to the value of robot airplanes described in a statement by the British Air Ministry.

"We have conducted experiments on robots, but are not doing so now," an army spokesman said, "robot devices are helpful in blind flying, but what good is it to send a pilotless plane up to drop a bomb when there is no way to determine where the target is?"

"There is no experimentation of that sort going on here," a navy aeronautical expert said, adding that some tests along that line had been made in the past.

Federal Loans For Fishermen

Government Asks Commons to Approve Plan; Fund to Be $300,000

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—A bill to establish long term mortgage credit for Canadian fishermen was introduced in the House to-night by Hon. Grote Stirling, Acting Minister of Fisheries. It is designed to provide for fishermen in a similar manner to those made available for farmers under the Canadian Farm Loan Act.

The new measure, like the Farm Loan Act, will be administered by the Minister of Finance through the Farm Loan Board.

The bill would enable the government to subscribe an initial capital to an amount not exceeding $300,000 which would be transferred to the board as required.

LANDS AS SECURITY

Conditions of loans are set out in the bill as follows:

"Loans shall be made only on the security of first mortgages on Fishermen's lands not exceeding 50 per cent of the actual value of such lands and the buildings thereon as appraised by the board: Provided no one person and no two or more persons having a joint or several ownership of the land to be mortgaged shall have by way of loan in the aggregate at any one time more than $1,000.

FOR PURCHASES

"The proceeds of such loan shall be used for the following purposes and no other: 1. To purchase boats or vessels, or shares or part interests in boats or vessels for use in the fisheries. 2. To purchase equipment for such fishing boats or vessels, including therein the purchase of gasoline, crude oil or other engines. 3. To purchase lines, hooks, trawls, nets, anchors, bait, traps and any other equipment or apparatus for use in fishing. 4. To discharge liabilities already accumulated. 5. Any purpose which in the judgment of the board may be reasonably considered as for fishing.

"Loans under this act shall be made only to fishermen actually engaged in or shortly to become engaged in fishing . . .

REPAYMENT TERMS

"Every loan made under this section shall be repayable upon such terms and within such periods not in excess of twenty-five years as the board may prescribe: Provided, however, that all loans repayable over a period in excess of five years shall be repayable in equal annual or semi-annual installments or principal and interest . . .

"If any borrower under this act expends any part of a loan for any purpose other than that approved by the board, the said loan shall at the option of the board become forthwith payable in full."

NEW BONDS

In addition to the initial capital provided by the Dominion treasury, bonds may be issued, which shall be subscribed for by the government up to 5 per cent of the loans outstanding.

The provincial organization of the farm loan board will function in regard to fishermen's loans and in addition advisory boards of persons familiar with the fishing industry may be set up in any province where required.

NO PENCIL, SO LIPSTICK USED

Jasper, Alberta, June 26.—"Not a pencil in the party," gasped a mountain climber at the completion of an ascent of Mt. Mary Vaux, one of the beautiful mountain peaks surrounding Maligne Lake in Jasper National Park, Canada. The party, however, was not to be robbed of the honor of leaving its climbing record in a cairn at the peak of the mountain. One of the lady alpinists in the party produced a lipstick and another found a sheet of paper. Laboriously the names and records of the party were inscribed with lipstick, and the records were placed in a carefully built rock cairn at the peak, before the party again descended to the chalets of the Canadian Natalonal Railways, which are located at the foot of this largest of glacial lakes in Canada.

Adam Moffatt is the local agent.

FAR EAST AIR TRIPS WEEKLY

Pan-American Airways Plan Regular Transpacific Service By October

Associated Press

San Francisco, June 26.—Pan-American Airways will start weekly flights from the Alameda airport to Manila the last week in September or the early part of October, V. E. Chenea, general traffic manager of the company, indicated here to-day.

Three days to China is the proposed schedule.

Mr. Chenea made the announcement during a stopover here while on a 25,000-mile inspection tour of the company's lines, which already has taken him to South America.

"We hope to start service the last part of September or early in October," he said.

The Pan-American clipper, staunch flying boat, which has made two flights to Honolulu and one to Midway and return, to make practical tests of weather and engineering data, will not be used in the proposed service. She is too small. Between here and Honolulu—2,400 land miles—she has to carry so much fuel her "pay" load is cut to 600 pounds.

DALHANNA IS NOW IN ROADS

Daldorch and Golden Sea Away For Port Alberni; Reliance Expected

Another freighter, the Dalhanna, was added to the fleet anchored in the Royal Roads this morning. She arrived from sea at 10 o'clock and is under charter to load cargo at Vancouver for the United Kingdom. The other vessels swinging with the tide in the roads are the Harbledown, the Harlingen and the Aurora.

The King Edwin left the Roads early yesterday for Vancouver to go on loading berth for the United Kingdom.

Two ships got away from Ogden Point docks last night for Port Alberni. They were the Daldorch, sailing at 6 o'clock, and the Golden Sea, which departed at 10.30 o'clock. Lumber and grain was loaded by the ships while here.

Motorship Pacific Ranger of the Furness Line is posted to sail from Vancouver on Friday with 4,000 tons of B.C. general and lumber for London, Liverpool, Manchester and Glasgow. There will be nine passengers aboard for British destinations.

The next inbound Furness ship is the Pacific Reliance, expected about July 2.

Many Criticize Housing Bill

Liberals, Laborites and Even Some Conservatives Tell Commons of Doubts

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 26.—The $10,000,000 housing bill traveled a rocky road through the House of Commons yesterday without a division on third reading. The only speaker who had no criticism of its terms was Sir George Perley, Acting Minister of Finance, its sponsor.

Liberals, Laborites and several Conservatives took pot-shots at it, but in the only division, which occurred in committee stage, government supporters stood shoulder to shoulder. An amendment offered by A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, to extend government loans to house repairs was lost 23 to 15, with Conservatives pitted against a solid opposition.

On the suggestion of several opposition members, Sir George Perley amended the bill so municipalities could deal directly with the government and not through a loan or insurance company.

FUND IS $10,000,000

As it finally passed, the bill provides a fund of $10,000,000 under control of the Finance Minister. From this advances could be made to a limit of 20 per cent on the cost of a house, providing loan or insurance companies or municipalities put up 60 per cent and the owner the remaining 20.

Sir George Perley announced the interest to be charged by loan companies would be 5½ per cent, with the government rate 3½ per cent. This would represent a flat rate of about 5 per cent on the 80 per cent mortgage which the government and the loan company would share in proportion to advances.

Provincial moratoria would not apply to mortgages under the legislation, the Acting Minister said, but he could not say whether the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act would apply. Neither could Solicitor-General Maurice Dupre.

MRS. WALEY'S STORY IS TOLD

Tacoma Court Will Hear Weyerhaeuser Boy Kidnapped Before She Knew

Associated Press

Olympia, Wash., June 26.—John P. Dore, former Seattle mayor, appointed to represent Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, nineteen, to-day divulged what he termed her own story of the George Weyerhaeuser kidnapping, on which she is slated to go to trial July 5. She is in jail here.

Dore said the former Salt Lake City girl is eager to take the witness stand in her own defence, although she tried three times to enter a guilty plea but was prevented by her husband, Harmon M. Waley, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to forty-five years in a federal prison.

FIRST SUSPICION

The young woman's story as revealed by Dore and his associate, Stephen J. O'Brien, Tacoma attorney, is that "the first suspicion I ever had that Harmon and Mahan (charged as William Dainard and still a fugitive) had kidnapped anyone was late Sunday evening, May 26, in Ellensburg, Wash."

That was two days after the nine-year-old son of the wealthy Tacoma lumber family was abducted.

On that Sunday evening, Dore said Mrs. Waley told him, she and Mahan drove to near Black Diamond, Wash. Mahan went into the woods and her husband came and made her lie on the car floor and be covered with the rear seat cushion.

Dore said his client told him that when she asked the reason for this action, Waley told her, "Don't ask any questions. Just do what I tell you."

BOY'S VOICE

Then Mahan came out of the woods and the trio drove to Ellensburg, whereupon Dore said Mrs. Waley explained, "I heard a voice from the rear of the car say:

"'Hey, mister, can I get out now?'

"I asked them who that was. They told me to mind my own business.

"'I think that's the Weyerhaeuser boy,' I told them, and again they told me to mind my own business.

"Harmon then asked Mahan why he had brought me along and Mahan replied:

"'Well, she'll have to get broken in some time, won't she?'"

In Spokane, Dore said Mrs. Waley told him, she rented a house they had occupied previously, adding that "I never saw the boy and he never saw me."

SPENDING OF MONEY

The woman's story as revealed by her attorney is that when she and Waley went to Salt Lake City after the boy was released, "the day I got arrested (June 8) Harmon had given me a $10 bill. I wanted to buy a birthday present for my father."

Having read a newspaper's list of the ransom bills, Dore said she added, she told her husband, "this looks like a ransom bill," but that Waley assured her, "Don't worry, it isn't; if it was I wouldn't send you out to spend it. Lots of bills are numbered like that, so don't worry about it."

She was arrested after spending ransom currency, U.S. Department of Justice agents charge.

The story as revealed by Dore followed the line Waley took when he was pleading with Judge E. E. Cushman in his wife's behalf during their arraignment in Tacoma.

Dore said Waley would be called from the McNeil Island prison to free his wife by a confession, but that the defence would not call nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser.

BOAT PARTY

Seattle, June 26.—Theories that a man aboard the cabin cruiser Lahonda No. 2, which stopped at Point Roberts, isolated settlement on the Canadian boundary, late yesterday, might have been William Mahan, sought in the Weyerhaeuser kidnapping case, were practically abandoned to-day when the former owner of the boat revealed four Seattle people left here almost two weeks ago in the boat for a trip north.

R. G. Gibson of Seattle, who formerly owned the vessel, said Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Van Sickler, Walter S. Newhall, in whose name the boat is now registered, and a girl whose name he did not know, left here June 14, intending to go to Alaska on a vacation trip.

Harry Einarson, clerk in a Point Roberts store, telephoned a Bellingham newspaper yesterday that five residents had reported the man looked like published photographs of Mahan. There were two men and two women aboard the boat.
